Lincolnite Heads 810,000 Shriners

Dr. Andrews Elected New Imperial Potentate

Lincoln Star Special

Atlantic City, N.J. — Dr. Clayton F. Andrews of Lincoln was elected Wednesday as Imperial Potentate of the Ancient and Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine to become the third physician ever to head the 86-year-old Masonic fraternity.

Dr. Andrews succeeds industrialist George E. Stringfellow of East Orange, N.J., as supreme head of some 810,000 Shriners in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Hawaii and the Canal Zone.

In installation ceremonies, resplendent with pomp and color, some 4,000 Shriners and their ladies watched an elaborate pageant of Dr. Andrews' life.

He is the second Nebraskan to be elevated to this high office. The Shrine's first imperial potentate and a founder was Dr. Walter M. Fleming of New York City.

Ovation

Donald S. Bergquist, potentate of Sesostris Temple in Lincoln, introduced Dr. Andrews, who received a standing ovation as the new imperial potentate.

Mrs. Andrews then joined her husband on stage as did their son, David Andrews of Chicago.

David, also a Shriner, described Dr. Andrews as a great father and predicted he would be a great potentate. He presented his father a red fez bearing the 5 stars of his office.

After his election, Dr. Andrews watched a snappy pageant depicting his life. The pageant was written by Ray Ramsay of Lincoln, produced and directed by Leo Hill of Lincoln, and featured Leon Lishner of the University of Nebraska.

Honor Guard

The new imperial potentate was escorted down the aisle by an honor guard of the Sesostris Foot Patrol, while the Sesostris band led by John Shildneck played, "There is no Place like Nebraska."

A host of Shriners from Nebraska were on hand, including Gov. Ralph Brooks and Sen. Carl Curtis, members of Tehama Temple at Hastings; Joe W. Seacrest, sovereign grand inspector general of the Scottish Rite for Nebraska, and Judge Herbert Ronin, a member of Sesostris.

Judge Ronin, as grand senior warden of the Grand Lodge of Nebraska AF & AM, represented the grand master of the 46,000 Nebraska Masons.

Telegrams of congratulations poured in, including messages from Vice President Richard Nixon and Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton.

Charles Thone, a member of Sesostris, represented Sen. Roman Hruska, who was unable to attend.

Wife Praised

Mrs. Andrews, wife of the imperial potentate, received carnations from El Jebel Temple of Denver and then drew a standing ovation as she was presented to the Shriners and their ladies.

Bergquist praised Dr. Andrews for his contribution to the Shrine and said he is a man of "rare professional skill."

A contingent of the Los Angeles Golden Boots, a Shrine more than 100,000 Shriners to this seaside convention city.

Stringfellow, as past imperial potentate, will continue to serve on the Board of Trustees for the 17 Shrine Hospitals for Children, of which Dr. Andrews also has been a member since 1957.

Dr. Andrews has been active the past year in organizing a clinical research project to "unify, standardize and codify" the Shrine Hospitals' thousands of records covering all phases of children's orthopedic diseases and surgery.

He is now chairman of a committee composed of leading orthopedic surgeons which is directing the project, expected to take two years to get into full operation.

Dr. Andrews described these hospital records, covering a period of 37 years, as the "greatest fund of source material for children's orthopedic diseases and operations in the world."

Dr. Andrews, who was a staff surgeon at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., before establishing practice in Lincoln in 1923, plans to visit most of the 17 Shrine Hospitals and 166 Temples during the next 12 months of his office.

Deeper Cuts Are Rejected

Sen. Johnson Helps GOP Fight Back Final Hour Efforts To Trim $3,543,320,000 Measure

Washington (AP)—The Senate Wednesday night passed a pared down $3,543,320,000 foreign aid bill after rejecting all new efforts to slash deeper the overseas spending authority President Eisenhower asked.

However, it let stand 383½ million dollars in cuts voted Tuesday night. The final total was below the $3,909,400,000 the President asked but above $3,542,600,000 voted by the House.

The roll call vote on passage was 65-26.

The senate acted under the shadow of a broad hint earlier in the day from Eisenhower that if his foreign aid authority was cut too deeply he might call Congress back into special session later this year to consider hiking it.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, opposed by a majority of his fellow Democrats, helped the Republicans fight back all new efforts to cut the aid bill in the final hours of voting.

As finally passed, the measure provides $1,300,000,000 for military arms to aid the free world allies and 751½ million in defense economic supports to help them feed, clothe and maintain their troops. The remainder of the $3,543,320,000 is for various forms of economic aid.

The military arms aid authority was 300 million dollars under Eisenhower's request and the defense economic supports 83½ million below it.

Conference Necessary

Before the measure goes to Eisenhower, the Senate and House will have to get together on their differing bills. There are differences in a number of provisions. In addition, the actual money must be provided in a separate bill.

Johnson told his colleagues they should not gamble with the nation's future and should refuse to make any more cuts in the bill.

Urging the Republicans to "rally their troops as a body," Johnson said he hoped many Democrats who felt as he did would join in defeating any further slashes.

8 Republicans Vote No

On final passage, 39 Democrats and 26 Republicans voted for the bill. Against it were 18 Democrats, including 12 Southerners, and 8 Republicans.

While denying Eisenhower all he asked for in military aid, the Senate gave him 50 million dollars above what he wanted for development loans and 12 million dollars in other authorizations he didn't ask.

It did provide the President with what he asked for in authorizing permanent authorizations for future military aid abroad, a change subject to House approval. Future arms assistance to Allies would be included in the regular Defense Department budget. This means it would go before the House and Senate Appropriations Committees, by-passing the Foreign Policy Committees.

Specific Plan Needed

On the negative side—from Eisenhower's viewpoint — were provisions taking some of the secrecy wraps off foreign aid spending, and directing him to submit a specific plan next year for progressive reduction and eventual elimination of all economic assistance except loans to foreign governments.

Rate Hike OKed

House Unit Votes Authority To Ike

Washington (UPI) — The House Ways & Means Committee handed President Eisenhower a major fiscal victory Wednesday by voting 17-7 to grant his request for authority to raise interest rates on government bonds.

A few hours later, the Treasury announced that its borrowing costs had shot to a 38-year high. It said it had sold a special issue of one-year bills, a type of security, at an average price equivalent to an interest rate of 4.728%.

Highest Since '21

It was the highest rate paid by the federal government since September, 1921, and was expected to spur favorable congressional action on the Ways & Means Committee bill

The legislation would retain the present legal ceilings on interest, but allow the President to ignore them whenever he found "the national interest requires it."

The present ceilings are 4¼% on big marketable government bonds sold to large-scale investors and 3¼% on savings bonds purchased by millions of Americans.

The authority to ignore the ceilings would be granted for only two years under the committee bill.

Can't Compete

The 4¼% interest ceiling now precludes the government's long-term marketable bonds from competing with private interest rates which have risen to a 30-year high. This has forced the government to resort to short-term borrowing, considered inflationary.

Nebraskans Vote No

Sens. Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska, Nebraska Republicans, voted with the minority when the Senate passed the foreign aid authorization bill.

County Levy To Drop Fourth Straight Year

By Del Harding

The Lancaster County mill levy will be reduced again this year for the fourth straight year, County Board Chairman Rollin Bailey said Wednesday.

Bailey said the reduction in the present 4.9 mill levy will be possible because of valuation increases in the county's tangible and intangible property. He declined, however, to estimate just how much the levy will be cut.

Bailey said the levy cut will be possible in spite of the fact that the operating budgets for most county offices may be higher than last year. He said additional tax revenue will more than make up the difference.

Figures Studied

The news of the prospective tax cut was announced by Bailey after he had studied the county valuation figures for 1959, which had been released Tuesday by County Assessor Arthur M. Davis.

Intangible B (stocks and bonds) valuations jumped 95% over last year and Intangible A (cash, book accounts, etc) showed a 57% increase.

The tangible property increase was 5.19%. Real estate valuations were up 2.67%, and business valuations were up 29.10%.

The prospective levy cut will be the fourth in a row. In 1955-56 the county levy was 5.83, in 1956-57, it was 5.70 and in 1957-58 it was 5.60.

More Monday

The County Board is scheduled to hear the budget requests of the various county agencies next Monday and Tuesday.

Only 7 of the 26 major county offices have been submitted so far. The 7 agencies have requested a total of $11,539.98 more than last year, but $5,849 of this increase is due to the county's participation in the recently-formed City-County Planning Commission.

Offices which have submitted their proposed budgets to the Board for approval:

Office	1959-60 Request	Granted 1958-59
County Clerk	$ 55,930	$ 55,906
County Judge	31,736	36,801

County School Supt.	31,250	29,765
Health Dept.	58,210*	52,500*

Gov. Long Said Failing; Family Near

Baton Rouge, La. (UPI)—Gov. Earl Long Wednesday night was reported "failing rapidly" and members of his family were summoned to the governor's mansion.

An unimpeachable source told UPI that the governor is "at the point of no return."

The source, a high state official, said the governor's sister, Mrs. Wilma Hunt, had called several members of the family and that others were expected to come to the mansion.

Wife Absent

It was reported that neither Long's estranged wife, Blanche, nor his nephew, Sen. Russell Long (D-La) had been called to his bedside.

The source added that Mrs. Hunt apparently had taken charge of directing affairs for the ailing governor.

Long's doctors said tonight his condition was worsening and told his friends to stay away from him.

In the gloomiest statement issued on Long's condition since he suffered a slight heart failure last week, a battery of 6 doctors said his physical condition was a "matter of continued concern" and he "seems more fatigued than he has been prior to this time."

MILD TEMPS ON TAP TODAY

If variety is the spice of life, then the weatherman holds just that for Nebraskans.

Following weekend rains and hot temperatures in the first part of the week, Thursday temperatures are to range in the 70s and 80s, with somewhat cooler temperatures slated for the southeast portion of the state.

The cooler temperatures are due to a cold front which is moving east from the Rockies.

Omaha and the Lincoln Air Base reported the state high Wednesday of 84, with a low of 50 reported at Scottsbluff.

Finigan, who suffered back injuries, was listed in good condition. He is a brother of State Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan.

The death brought the state's highway death toll to 152 as compared with 150 at this time one year ago.

. . . NPPS Director Dies

Roy Lang, 61, of Columbus, director of personnel and public relations for he Nebraska Public Power System, died early Wednesday of injuries suffered in a truck-car collision near Overton.

Salt-Wahoo Money OK'd

. . . Committee Votes $400,000

Lincoln Star Special

Washington, D.C.—The Senate Appropriations Committee Wednesday approved $400,000 in funds for the coming fiscal year for the long-awaited Salt-Wahoo flood control project in the Lincoln area.

The Salt-Wahoo appropriation was linked with a $1,258,836,300 water project bill that also included funds for 3 other Nebraska projects.

The committee also approved funds for the following Nebraska projects:

—Gering and Mitchell Valley, $350,000.

—Ainsworth, $1,000,000.

—Missouri River, Kenslers Bend to Sioux City, Ia., $900,000.

The Senate committee—as the House did earlier—ignored President Eisenhower's recommendation that no new projects be started this year. (The Salt—Wahoo project was authorized in 1958.)

Construction

Funds in the bill go to the Army Engineers and Bureau of Reclamation for construction and planning of flood control, reclamation, irrigation and power projects.

In Lincoln, State Sen. Otto H. Liebers termed the committee action "tremendous news."

Liebers, president and sparkplug of the Salt—Wahoo Watershed Assn., said the next few days will be "extremely important to this project."

The next congressional step, provided the Senate upholds the bill, will be a joint Senate—House conference to iron out differences that exist in the 2 bills. The House earlier authorized only $90,000 for the Salt—Wahoo project.

After the conference committee reaches agreement, the bill will go back to both chambers for action.

'Important Time'

"We're going to contact the Nebraska delegation in Washington Thursday," Sen. Liebers told The Star. "This is a tremendously important time for us."

Former Gov. Robert Crosby of Lincoln, secretary and attorney for the Salt — Wahoo Assn., said if the $400,000 is finally appropriated, about $250,000 would be used for engineering planning and about $150,000 for actual construction in the fiscal year.

He indicated the first construction work would likely be on the Antelope Creek dam on the southeast edge of Lincoln.

$15 Million

The Salt—Wahoo project, a 10-year dream of members of the watershed association and citizens of the Lincoln area, will need some $15 million in funds before completion, based on 1956 construction prices.

The project includes 12 flood control dams plus channel improvement on Salt Creek through Lincoln to Ashland and on Wahoo Creek from Wahoo to Ashland. It calls for 10 dams above Lincoln and 2 above Wahoo.

U.S. Senator Roman Hruska (R-Neb) is a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Lake Boat Explosion Toll At 44

Hadersley, Denmark (AP)—An explosion and fire flashed Wednesday through an excursion boat loaded with a happy, singing picnic crowd. Police said 44 persons were known dead.

Some of the victims died in the blast and fire. Others drowned in the sun-drenched waters of Hadersley Park Lake in this south Jutland resort area.

Many persons were hospitalized with burns and other injuries, but their number and the total number of those who had been aboard was not known. Police sources said there were 34 known survivors.

Authorities said the boat apparently was loaded beyond its authorized capacity.

Captain Badly Burned

Some survivors said the explosion occurred after a makeshift gas line was put in operation to replace a line that had become blocked. Police said they had been unable to question the captain because he was among the seriously injured.

A police spokesman said there were some foreigners among the dead. He declined to give the number and said he could not disclose their nationalities pending definite identification. First reports said the victims were believed to be Danes and Germans.

Several children were reported among the dead. Witnesses said they saw women screaming and leaping from the burning boat with youngsters in their arms.

Governors Find: KHRUSH TOUGH

Moscow (AP)—Seven U.S. governors came away from a give-and-take discussion with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, impressed by his debating skill, his knowledge and his toughness.

"He is able to deal with you at any level—at the highest or in street fighting," said Gov. Stephen L. R. McNicols of Colorado. "Back home we would say he is a good alley fighter."

The conversation in Khrushchev's office lasted 3 hours 45 minutes and produced no new positions from Khrushchev on current international sore spots. It was the high point of the governors' 3-week tour of the Soviet Union.

Newsmen were barred from the meeting. The governors told about it after conferring among themselves.

Describing the United States as the biggest and strongest nation in the world, Khrushchev told the governors that "if there is friendship between us, there can never be war." He also appealed for Soviet-American co-operation to help backward nations advance economically.

He foresaw worldwide catastrophe if the two nations go to war "because if we fight, no force on earth can halt us."

Ex-Fireman Dies; Electrocution Is Probable Cause

A retired city fireman was apparently electrocuted Wednesday night as he sat alone in his apartment.

Dead is Clarence Suess, 59, of 305½ So. 11th.

Police originally thought that Suess had died from natural causes. When police arrived at the apartment, Suess was found with his head leaning against an air conditioner.

Further investigation revealed a severe burn on his right shoulder. Other burns were discovered on his right foot and right forearm.

Suess apparently came into contact with the air conditioner which is believed to have had defective wiring, investigating officers said.

Gustavson Cites State's Potential In Education

. . . Will Address Teachers

By Sam Hall

Former University of Nebraska Chancellor R. G. Gustavson has arrived in Lincoln to address the Thursday session of the University's All-Teachers Conference.

Dr. Gustavson, presently president and director of the Ford Foundation's Resources for the Future in Washington, D.C., was chancellor from 1946 to 1953.

"I'm very happy to return to the University," he said, "and I'm delighted at the support the people are giving the University, which is continually growing in significance."

"The Universtiy of Nebraska, and Nebraska in general," he continued, "can someday become a great white spot in terms of education. And it is rapidly moving in that direction."

Foreign Research

Dr. Gustavson said his Thursday speech will deal largely with his studies of higher education and research in various foreign countires. As head of Resources for the Future he has done considerable traveling in Russia, Mexico, Sweden, Puerto Rico and other nations.

"Human beings the world over are struggling for a higher standard of living—more food, more clothing, better housing, less disease. And they are beginning to realize the way to get this higher standard of living is through education."

"In Russia," Dr. Gustavson said, "research is going on in a very high order and expanded education is progressing at a tremendous rate." Dr. Gustavson was one of a 6-man scientific team to visit the Soviet last year to study higher education and research.

No Worries

Admission to a Russian institution of higher learning is competitive, he said. But once persons are accepted their worries are over, because the government furnishes tuition, books, board, room and a substantial amount of spending money per month. "That is a tremendous stimulus," he pointed out.

"However," he said, "education has to be more than just scientific education. Our educational systems must develop a philosophy of education to produce people who place value on human life."

Dr. Gustavson said he has accepted a position next year as professor of chemistry at the University of Arizona. "Part of my capacity," he said, "will be to help coordinate the school's research program."

Khrushchev Is Coldly Rebuked By Eisenhower

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower coldly rebuked Russia's Premier Nikita Khrushchev Wednesday for what he termed menacing talk about a possible war over Berlin.

Eisenhower in effect told the Soviet leader to cut out such talk if he wants a peaceful settlement of the bitter East-West quarrel over Berlin's future.

Eisenhower told a news conference:

"I don't believe that responsible people should indulge in anything that can even remotely be considered ultimatums or threats. That is not the way to reach peaceful solutions."

Eisenhower's tone was sharp and his face grim. He spoke out when a reporter asked what he thought about language attributed to Khrushchev by former Gov. W. Averell Harriman of New York. Harriman met with Khrushchev in Moscow on June 23.

Harriman has written that the Russian premier told him: "Your generals talk of maintaining your position in Berlin with force. That is bluff. If you send in tanks, they will burn and make no mistake about it. If you want war, you can have it, but remember it will be your war. Our rockets will fly automatically."

Eisenhower coupled his comment with a new pledge to stand firm in West Berlin despite Khrushchev's demand that the Western powers pull out their troops in 18 months.

Eisenhower announced he plans no further direct intervention to avert a nationwide strike of 500,000 steelworkers set for a week from Wednesday.

Eisenhower told his news conference he will simply continue to urge both sides to go on bargaining, in the public interest until they reach a settlement of their deadlocked wage dispute.

The president gave an emphatic "No" when asked whether he planned any new move.

Dealing out answers rapidly and seriously, Eisenhower also:

1. Declared, for the first time in public, that he considers racial segregation which denies any citizen equal opportunity in economic and political affairs to be morally wrong.

But his reply did not mention segregation in the schools. Newsmen time and again have sought his personal view on that issue.

2. Insisted he is not trying to impose "government by veto." Replying to Democratic criticism in Congress of his veto of the $1,375,000,000 housing bill, Eisenhower said he considers only the public good when he acts on legislation.

Beauty Contests Lots Of Effort, Says Kay Nielsor

Council Bluffs, Ia. (AP)—The "Miss Nebraska" of 1957 who now is "Miss Iowa" of 1960 says beatuty contests are lots of effort and work.

But they bring one in contact with exciting new people as one reward, says Kay Nielson of Council Bluffs.

Kay will represent Iowa in the Miss Universe contest this year, seeking to win a prize taken in 1957 by Kay Morris of Ottumwa, Ia.

That same year Kay was Miss Nebraska, as a student at the University of Nebraska, in the Miss America contest, won in 1955 by Sharon Kay Ritchie, a native of Grand Island, Neb., who was Miss Colorado.

Yugoslav Plane Commandeered

Bari, Italy (AP) — A Yugoslav airliner with 27 aboard made an unscheduled landing here Wednesday night. The pilot told police a passenger had brandished a pistol and forced him to come to Italy.

Police quoted the armed passenger as saying he wanted political asylum in Italy because he did not like conditions under the regime of President Tito in Yugoslavia. He was taken into custody for investigation.

The plane, on a scheduled flight from southern Yugoslavia to Belgrade, with 5 crew members and 22 passengers, was given permission to take off with the other passengers to complete the trip.

Boy, 16, Held For Rape

Denmark, S.C. (AP) —A 30-year-old white woman was raped in her home after her husband left work. Police arrested a 16-year-old Negro boy and charged him with the alleged attack.

Bamberg County Sheriff John B. Zeigler said the prisoner, Bobby Dykes, admitted the offense. The youth was found hiding in a culvert under a railroad crossing. He was taken to the State Penitentiary in Columbia.

South Carolina law prohibits its publication of a rape victim's name.

Spinster Leaves $700,000 To UN

Fayetteville, Ark. (UPI)—A 47-year-old spinster left an estate estimated at $700,000 to the United Nations to promote "universal peace," according to her will probated Wednesday.

Attorneys said the estate of Miss Beulah Edge, who died here July 3, consisted of bonds and cash valued at $125,000 and 4,000 acres of oil-rich lands in Roberts County, Tex. They said at least 50 wells were on the land.

The will provided that an aunt, Mrs. Carrie Heare of Tahoka, Tex., will get the income from the estate and upon her death the entire estate will go to the UN.

Few persons in Fayetteville were aware of Miss Edge's wealth.

Federal Road Money Use Gripes Terry

Scottsbluff, Neb. (UPI) — State Sen. Terry Carpenter, Scottsbluff, said Wednesday he was disturbed that Gov. Brooks is spending all the federal Interstate money in the Omaha and Lincoln areas, instead of getting work started on such outstate areas as North Platte and Kimball.

Said Carpenter, "It gripes me to have Brooks spending $100,000,000 in Omaha before a quarter is spent on the rest of the state, where people also are paying for highways."

"Just because the Omaha Chamber of Commerce wants to hog all the federal road money," the senator continued, "doesn't mean that's what the people in Omaha want."

Carpenter said the interstate highway program "is in a mess in Nebraska," adding that "Brooks is at fault for the mess because he's never given the Highway Department a clear policy directive."

Carpenter said he "is sure" there won't be enough money to match all the federal money that the Governor wants to use for highway construction.

Omaha Hearing:

Officials Say Full Transcript To Be Sent

Douglas County officials have promised State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington a full transcript as soon as possible of the County Board of Equalization meeting which resulted in a $5 million reduction in value for the Western Electric Plant near Omaha.

Herrington was in Omaha to confer with the county officials in line with the investigation of the plant's value reduction ordered by Gov. Ralph Brooks at the suggestion of Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

Douglas County Assessor Joe Stolinski had set the valuation of 3 buildings at the giant new Western Electric Plant at some $35 million.

The county board reduced this to $30 million after Western Electric had protested Stolinski's figure, and asked that it be reduced to $15 million.

Herrington said Stolinski is "standing firm" on his $35 million valuation, but that the county board believes its $5 million cut is "justified."

After he receives the transcript of the board of equalization meeting, Herrington said he would study it, draw conclusions and report his findings to the governor.

Steelworkers Spurn Ike's No-Strike Bid

New York (AP) — The Steelworkers Union Wednesday rejected a bid from President Eisenhower to delay a steel strike threat indefinitely beyong the two-week truce already granted by the union.

The union previously had postponed its strike deadline from July 1 to July 14. Barring an agreement, the industry will have to start shutting down this weekend.

Eisenhower's request for an indefinite extension and the union's refusal to put aside its strike weapon came at a time when industry-union talks here appeared to look a little more promising.

Signs Of Progress

Both sides clammed up on what was going on in the negotiating room and declined to say if the talks were getting anywhere. But until now the union has been regularly stating that the bargaining was deadlocked and devoid of progress.

Longer negotiating sessions and the intentness of both sides seemed to be good signs.

The President said:

"I really believe that it's a pity that we can't all act in accordance with our basic conceptions as to what is good for the country—and therefore not have a strike."

Interstate Timetable

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

A needed step was taken by Gov. Ralph Brooks when he set up a strict timetable for work on the interstate highway in the Omaha area. As the governor noted, this project has not moved in Nebraska as it should have and the state finds itself third from last among other states in interstate construction.

There has been no knowledge of any lack of funds to carry out this work but locations have not been decided upon nor rights-of-way acquired with the speed which we have a right to expect. Plans and specifications have been slow in coming out and only a few miles of the important road have actually been built. And as these miles are now situated, they start no place and go no place. The Omaha interchange work must be completed before the highway work now done between Lincoln and Omaha can be of any real value.

Omaha-Lincoln Link

After the Omaha work is completed, the interstate must be carried rapidly to and through Lincoln. Just as Brooks evidently finds, it is difficult to understand why this work does not move more rapidly. Lincoln, certainly, is familiar with the pace generally set in the past within the State Highway Department.

If Brooks can do something to step up this pace he will have performed a worthwhile service. Lincoln, for instance, still does not even know where one of its connections with the interstate is going to enter the city. For years the city has been trying to get determined the route of the 9th and 10th streets connection with the interstate.

This is important because it affects a part of the city's major street plan, affects a large segment of the city and affects an important recreational development just outside the city. In other words, when progress is not made on the interstate, progress cannot be made in many other areas. The interstate in itself is one of the most important single influences upon the state of recent time.

It will have a great deal to do with the shaping of things in the future. Thus, it is important that it be moved along as rapidly as possible. Needless delay also is a disadvantage to the state from another point of view. Whatever growth and development are to come from the interstate will naturally come first to those areas which complete their program first.

Industry moving in with the development of the interstate will locate where the facility is first available. Nebraska certainly does not want to be last or even near last in this respect. If the interstate is to attract new industry as is predicted, it will be to the state's advantage to be among the first offering a complete interstate facility.

Not only is the facility itself of a practical value, but rapid progress gives the state a good name. It means we are an area which can see the need and potential of a development and proceed to capitalize on it. It simply means that we are progressive and have an active interest in the future growth of the nation.

A state which hangs back on such projects as the interstate is not a state in which enlightened leadership might be expected. It would not be looked upon as a state inhabited with people who have the desire and determination to improve things. If the interstate lags, how can a good highway program in general be expected, a good park system, up-and-coming state institutions, improved educational facilities, etc.? Such conclusions may not be accurate but they will be found in the minds of outsiders who might have an interest in our area.

Indicative To Outsiders

Thus, interstate progress is needed as a practical matter in itself and as an example of the progressive nature of the state. The timetable, if rigidly insisted upon by the governor, should provide the incentive that is needed to get this program off and running. Too much time has already been lost and the state suffers so long as this is permitted to continue.

Oath About To Go

The U.S. Senate has voted 12 to 2 to strike the requirement of a loyalty oath from the National Defense Education Act. If the House follows suit future students seeking educational assistance will get it on the assumption that they are loyal.

The requirement of loyalty oaths is a mixed question with more evidence of its harm and uselessness than any security it may give. A true subversive would never hesitate to take the oath because of the added protection it would give him, and because it would be no deterrent to his subversion. To him the oath would be empty and non-disciplining. On the other hand a loyal person should find no objection to making a public pledge of something he deeply believes in. But it cannot be gainsaid that the oath in educational matters implies that educated persons are less to be trusted than, say, a farmer who receives program assistance without his loyalty being questioned.

There is a bad connotation in an educational loyalty oath. It hints that the more a man learns the more he is going to incline toward socialism. And this, of course, is not so. The communism that afflicts the world today was the offspring of revolutionists, not the universities. And the revolutionists have never paid more than lip service to communistic principles. They operate on the same basis as all successful authoritarian revolutionists have done—line up or knock your head off.

The greatest effect of the oath has been the repetition of an anti-communist idea for the effect it might have on the rank and file mind. Thus far that has not been much because historically the Americans have been almost totally indifferent to the allurements of communism. No socialist or communist party has ever amounted to anything in the U.S.

If America is losing ground to the Reds it is not because of an ideological and growing rejection of our way of life, but rather through not working more diligently at it.

Foreign Aid Dispute

It may be only an indirect interest Nebraskans have in the foreign aid measure passing through the Senate but it is, nevertheless, a vital interest. It is vital because, for one thing, it affects federal taxes and secondly, it affects our national security. It does the latter because our security is related to the well-being of all the world, not just our own back yard.

It is hoped that the Senate acted in sincerity and on the principles it argued when it trimmed $383,500,000 from the $3,909,400,000 requested for foreign aid by President Eisenhower. This was the principle that too much foreign aid money is wasted and that there is no accounting of the money so its effectiveness can be determined. This, of course, has been the weak point of the foreign aid program.

It has been impossible for anyone to say accurately just what its effects have been. This is so because the funds have gone, in many cases, directly into the coffers of foreign governments. These governments, then, have used the money as they saw fit. Some of it has gone specifically earmarked for certain projects but there is seldom any assurance that it was used in this manner.

Cutting of the funds will do nothing to correct this void in the program. At best, it will mean that the amount of waste will merely be reduced. While there is some justification for congressional action on this basis, it is a hit-and-miss approach and will not help the United States in its relationships with many independent and friendly nations.

Unfortunately, Congress is now just as concerned with political attacks upon the President as it is with the merits of what it does. The President has brought this upon himself by refusing to co-operate or compromise on anything with Congress. The legislative and executive conflict which exists has hurt the foreign aid program and is unlikely to contribute anything worthwhile in any area.

Distinctive Honor

Wednesday at Atlantic City, N.J., Dr. Clayton F. Andrews of Lincoln was elevated to the highest office of the Mystic Shrine. For the coming year he will be the order's Imperial Potentate.

To be the top man of such a highly thought-of fraternity which lists 810,000 members is indeed a distinction reserved for the few—an office for which a man qualifies himself not with dramatic dispatch, but by years of faithful and dedicated service. Dr. Andrews' election is the measure of the man, himself, as well as an unusual honor to Lincoln and to Nebraska. There was ample reason for the pride and pleasure that was felt here on the occasion of his ascendancy.

Beside his demonstrated abilities as a fraternity man and his usefulness to the Shrine, Dr. Andrews long service in Lincoln as the physician of many especially qualifies him for his current responsibilities. For years the Shrine has been outstanding for its work in behalf of crippled children, an activity into which it has poured huge sums both for the care and rehabilitation of the afflicted, and for research and therapeutic facilities. Under Dr. Andrews' leadership the Shrine's program will continue forward with pointed effect.

One can say that this distinguished honor could not have gone to a more deserving man and the coming 12 months will amply prove it. Dr. Andrews did not go to his honor alone. Sesostris Temple of Lincoln, his home lodge, was represented at Atlantic City in sizeable number and in various ways took a prominent part in the colorful and impressive pageant of the potentate's installation.

Do It Yourself

Americans have made a big thing of the do-it-yourself movement, but it remained for Mexico to make it big league, says the Wall Street Journal.

The Mexicans are making automobiles by the do-it-yourself method. Lacking enough money to buy a car, much less pay the stiff duty on one imported from the United States, the Mexicans along the border are visiting American junk yards and carrying back car parts piece by piece. When they have enough parts they bolt them together and away they go. It is reported this practice is achieving two things, providing rapid transportation, and because the homemade cars are a little tricky on the road, keeping Mexico from the danger of overpopulation.

Must Put An End To Complacency

BOSTON — As the result of a traffic accident this writer spent part of the Fourth of July week end in the Massachusetts general hospital in Boston. This does not mean that New England automobiles are more deadly than bureaucrats' brickbats, but rather that my wife should be more careful about riding such an old-fashioned means of locomotion as the bicycle.

However, thanks to the skill of Dr. V. H. Kazanjian, the plastic surgeon who has worked such miracles with wounded GI's, and thanks also to the kindly efficiency of Massachusetts general nurses, Mrs. P. emerged battered, but all in once piece. She is pondering my advice that jet planes are now safer than bicycles. After all, times change.

While I was sitting in the hospital, the people of Boston, leaving for long week ends or sitting on the banks of the Charles River listening to those delightful pops concerts, were only mildly interested in the statement of Nikita Khrushchev to Averell Harriman that Russia would gain supremacy over the United States in a relatively few years. They seemed more concerned over news that Mike Higgins had been fired as manager of the Boston Red Sox.

You can't blame them. Simultaneously their leader in the White House had left for an even longer week end in Maryland apparently with no pressing cares other than the rubbers of bridge and the holes of golf he was going to play with his Camp David guests.

In Russia, which Khrushchev says will triumph over the U.S.A. there is a one-party press. But in those days when the American colonies burned for freedom there were scores of little newspapers published by Tom Paine, Ben Franklin and other patriots who cared not about TV or radio stations or other means of monopolizing the news. They cared only about building a new free country. Again, things have changed.

☆ ☆ ☆

What Khrushchev was saying when he told Harriman that the USSR would surpass the U.S.A. was that the U.S.A. was on the road to becoming a second-class power.

If you count the gains of Russia realistically, the Khrushchev boast, distasteful as it is, was based on hard, unpleasant facts. However, facts can be changed. No one dreamed that the little band of farmers who fought at Lexington or the political upstarts who signed the Declaration of Independence could build a country that would surpass the British Empire as the most powerful nation in the world.

We still are. We are not yet a second-class power. And we don't have to be—if we substitute the spirit of Concord and Lexington for the spirit of complacency.

DORIS FLEESON

Russia First Stop In Nixon Campaign

WASHINGTON — Vice-President Nixon's journey to Russia starting July 28 is widely viewed here as the opening of his campaign to be nominated and elected president. About 60 reporters will accompany him, and others now stationed in Europe will join the party in Moscow.

The vice-president's solicitude for them is such that he is considering letting them have the honor of making the initial flight in the newer and fast Boeing jet which has been set aside for him. This would mean that the vice-president, the President's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, and the other assorted notables of the official party would arrive after the press.

It is the pattern of presidential air travel, where reporters and photographers are always dispatched ahead of the White House party so that the news channels and news technicians can be ready and waiting to record the event for posterity and the voting public.

Nixon is also trying to induce the Soviet authorities to lift all censorship on communications from his party. Reporters are told these assurances have not been forthcoming.

The Nixon staff has been justly praised for its foresight and attention to just such details when their boss travels. It helps to relieve the inevitable tensions among the competitive newsmen and to foster as much togetherness as they are capable of when at work — which is not very much.

The press party has not yet been assured that it has the all clear from the Russians. A major problem seems to be that the Russians are insisting that for his journey across Siberia, Russian planes must be used. They appear not ready to promise that a fleet of them will be available so that all reporters who so desire can go too, and that will be most of them.

Pool arrangements can of course be made to cover such contingencies, but they will be difficult to establish pleasantly and with equal justice for the reporters who have come so far at great cost to cover the story. Many of them frankly admit they will be going to watch Nixon the candidate in action in the Soviet Union, with details of his goings and comings of lesser importance.

☆ ☆ ☆

It is not yet apparent whether the mixed reception accorded here to first Deputy Premier Koslov means problems for the vice-presidential safari. The Kozlov and Nixon travels are a reciprocal affair, each being assigned to open his country's trade fair in the homeland of his country's greatest rival.

That the Russians will strive for complete security for the Nixon party cannot be doubted, just as this government has so striven for Kozlov. But Kozlov has been plainly shown the hardened temper of official Washington toward the Soviet Union and in some instances, as in Detroit, local officials have turned the cold shoulder.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Training Of The Sentry

By BILL ANDERSON
Star Staff Writer

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a two-part story devoted to the sentry dogs at Lincoln Air Force Base and the men who train them.)

A.2C Raymond Drake of Columbus, O., stood downwind from the air policeman and his companion—a gray and charcoal bundle of dynamite named Scotty.

The afternoon was hot and Drake looked uncomfortable in the huge, padded attack suit. If he was afraid, it didn't show.

"Attack!" shouted A.2C Bill Bottcher, a New York City airman and handler of the dog.

Scotty lunged forward and sped toward Drake, who braced himself for the dog's vicious onslaught. The 78-pound shepherd lunged and clamped his huge jaws on Drake's arm. He wasn't playing. He fought until Bottcher reached his side and shouted the word, "Out!" Then he obeyed a command to watch and stepped back several paces, squatted on his haunches and kept a stony stare riveted on Drake.

Although the huge 75-pound attack suit is padded with nearly two inches of tough fiber, some of the stronger dogs often bite through the suit. Drake bears several scars, as well as new bite marks to dramatize the ferocity of these training exercises.

Attack drills are only part of a vigorous routine the 27 and their handlers go through every day to stay at the peak of their effectiveness. From these drills come hardened and extremely alert sentry dogs, capable of action in almost any emergency.

Occasionally a dog will turn on his handler, but this rarely happens after they get to know each other. The handler, who can be as tough as the dog, uses discipline and kindness to win the shepherd's loyalty.

And that loyalty is unbreakable. The handler is the sentry dog's only friend. Pity the man who attacks a sentry dog's master, for he's in real trouble.

☆ ☆ ☆

A.1C J. C. Shane of Springfield, Mo. a kennelmaster at LAFB, often shows base visitors through the kennels.

"At night, a bullet will rarely hit its target, but a sentry dog never misses," Shane tells the awed and nervous visitors as the dogs pace their cages fiercely.

Scotty, a sentry dog handled by A.2C Bill Bottcher of New York City, tries to tear the arm from "Agitator" A.2C Raymond Drake of Columbus, O. Drake is protected in a huge padded suit, but some strong dogs can penetrate the armor.

Standard equipment for a handler consists of a leash, leather collar, choke chain (to enforce discipline) and a muzzle which is used when walking the dog to and from his sentry outpost. The handler also carries a comb and brush to groom the animal.

Basic commands of "heel," "sit," "down" and "stay" are repeated until the dog responds instantly. He is trained to follow commands off-leash as well as on.

In hot weather, the dogs are trained in late afternoon and early evening hours.

A training area is connected to the compound at LAFB. In this enclosed field, handlers put the dogs through a rapid series of tests, which includes an obstacle course; response to commands; and actual attacks on human "agitators."

☆ ☆ ☆

The obstacle course is broken down into 7 tests; the low jump, high jump, the window, the crawl tube, the low walk (an elevated plank), high walk and a scanning wall.

In the next step of training—agitation—the dog is teased in order to make him think everyone is his natural enemy, except his handler. The agitator often uses a switch or similar item to beat the ground or strike the dog on his front legs.

The agitator retreats, giving the dog a feeling of confidence. Theoretically, a well-trained sentry dog will attack any individual on command from his handler.

There are several forms of agitation, including what is known as line and circle agitation. This is done by several dogs and their handlers to encourage shy dogs. The animals are held on leash while they gang up on the agitator, dressed in the large, padded attack suit. Handlers are careful not to give their dogs too much leash as the agitator could be seriously bitten.

After training, the dogs are taken to their kennels to rest for duty. It's a responsible job they must do and they do it well. The sentry dog certainly cannot be considered sociable, but he has developed into an extremely capable asset to our nation's security net.

Reporter: Gentleman, Diplomat, Ostrich

NEW YORK — When a man is proud of the business he's in, he's likely to wax sentimental over its major anniversaries and milestones. Thus, I found the 75th anniversary edition of "Editor and Publisher" a pure delight — especially Ray Erwin's backward-turn-backward article.

"A reporter," counselled a predecessor of E. and P., "has to have the manners of a gentleman, the acuteness of a diplomat, the patience of a Job, and the stomach of an ostrich." He was also expected to work for $25 a week, if he was a real hot fellow.

It was a blunter age, journalistically. From an issue of the late 1880s, as an epilogue to a story about the suicide of an old printer:

"Whiskey did it."

From the issue of Nov. 1, 1884:

"It would be a credit to the New York Press Club if Henry Ward Beecher's name was erased from the roll of membership."

Gen. Frank L. Howley, U.S. commandant in Berlin in the tough post-war dealings with the Russians in that city, speaks with customary vigor in his new book, "Peoples and Policies," the most different kind of travel book you'll read this year. It is published by Regnery.

It might be said that with this book the era of the U.S. "Innocent Abroad" reaches its end. Howley takes us through Ghana, Belgian Congo, Kenya, Sudan, Egypt, Israel, the Middle East, North Africa, Spain, France, England, West Germany, West Berlin, East Berlin, Budapest and Formosa, and draws his own hard-hitting conclusion:

"Since the end of World War II, we have proclaimed a policy of containment, which did not contain the Soviets, and we have proclaimed a policy of liberation, which did not liberate anyone. We were prepared only and always to 'peacefully co-exist' with the Soviets' and for this they were not prepared.

". . . From our premature demobilization in the post-war years to our failure to use our atomic monopoly to end the Korean War and our failure to support the uprisings behind the Iron Curtain, we have given in to the Soviets. But where we resisted them—economically in Greece and Turkey, politically in Iraq, Berlin; and in Quemoy and Matsu—they were forced to retreat without much counter-resistance.

". . . We can preserve the peace only if we are so strong or, which is the same thing, if the enemy is comparatively weak that even the last Kremlin commissar knows for sure that aggression would mean an end to his rule. Yet he must also know that we are willing to use our strength if need be.

"Yet neither the enemy nor our allies nor those uncommitted nations which might come to our side will respect our strength unless they can be sure that we will not hesitate to apply it for all it's worth. This may seem paradoxical (and it was unknown to old-time pacifists) but war can be avoided in the struggle against totalitarian dictators and would-be aggressors only if we do not fear to take the risks of war. Silly cracks to the contrary notwithstanding, 'brinkmanship' indeed the safest way of defending freedom and peace."

We've seen some of the U.S. art collection which will be displayed to the Russians in Moscow beginning July 25, and it it doesn't encourage them to hit us with their Z-bomb, nothing will. A lot of them will believe that we are, indeed, a decadent species.

We'll have some fine stuff there, too, of course. I'm not in favor of Congressman Walter's demand that we crate the whole lot and ship it back here. Leave both the good and the bad, and, when the fair ends next month, give the Russians the beatnik stuff.

First National To Construct Bank Drive-In At 13th, L

The First National Bank of Lincoln announced Wednesday it will construct a drive-in teller facility on the northeast corner of 13th and L—the first such facility detached from the main bank allowed under a new permissive law passed by the 1959 Legislature.

Bank President Burnham Yates said the operation has been approved by the Comptroller of the Currency.

The facility, currently in the planning and design stage, will have 5 or 6 drive-in teller windows, large driveway areas and access to both 13th and L Sts., Yates revealed. It will be 6 blocks from the main bank building, located at 10th and O.

Yates said the facility will proably be ready by fall and construction will start as soon as architects draft plans.

Filling Station

The corner, owned by the State Journal Co., is now occupied by the Hompes Tire Co., as a filling station and parking lot. Neal Hompes said the business on this corner would be liquidated by fall.

(Earlier this year the Hompes Tire Co. sold its two-story garage at 17th and N to a Kansas City firm for remodeling as the leased site for Lincoln's regional office of the Veterans Administration.)

The parking lot operation on the corner will continue until fall, unless prevented by construction.

The lot surrounding the Hompes station also has been used as terminal space by several out-of-town bus companies.

The First National Bank is leasing from the State Journal Co. effective Aug. 1, 1959, the corner quarter of a block just south of the Union Bus Depot and across the street from the Cornhusker Hotel. The lease is for 18 years, with options to renew 3 successive 24-year periods or a total of 90 years.

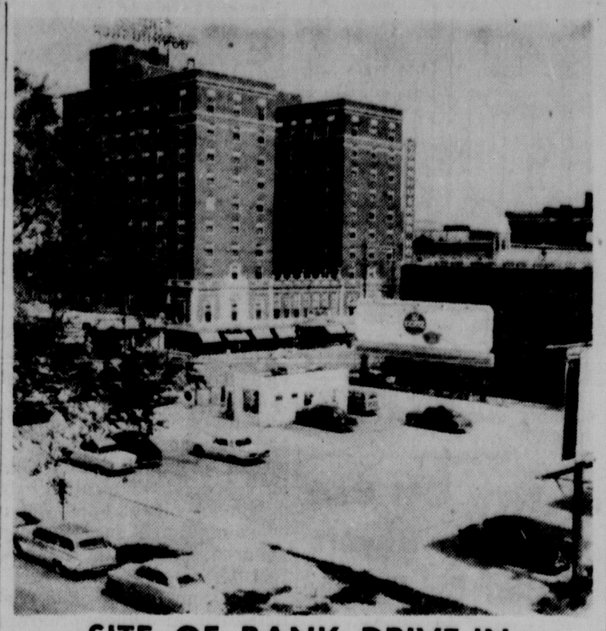

The State Journal Co. acquired the land in 1931, 1933 and in the mid 1940s.

8-10 Employes

The new bank facility will employ from 8 to 10 people, Yates said.

"The facility will offer to bank customers a convenient location for making deposits, cashing checks and making payments due at the bank. Vastly increased use of automobiles makes this expansion very desirable," Yates said.

The Scottsbluff National Bank has also asked the comptroller for permission to establish such a drive-in facility, but President Henry Kosman said permission has not yet been received.

SITE OF BANK DRIVE-IN

The First National Bank of Lincoln has announced it will construct a drive-in teller facility on the northeast corner of 13th and L. The facility is the first such approved since the Legislature passed permissive law allowing banks to construct and operate facilities detached from the main bank. The site for the drive-in facility is presently occupied by the Hompes Tire Co. as a filling station and parking lot. (Star Photo)

He said the bank has exercised an option on a site in the downtown area and has publicly announced intention for building such a facility.

The Cornhusker Hotel has previously indicated it may construct a motel addition expansion on the northwest corner of 13th and L. A model of the proposed motel is currently on display in the hotel lobby.

1959 Law

A law enacted by the 1959 Legislature gave banks in cities of more than 5,000 population authority to establish teller window service within one-half mile of their principal place of business.

Only one such facility for each bank is permissible under the new law, and banking services are restricted to receiving deposits, cashing checks, issuing exchange and making payments.

Such auxiliary services must not be located within 300 feet of another non-participating bank or within 50 feet of another auxiliary teller office.

Survey On Route, Cost Urged For Proposed NE Diagonal

By Virgil Falloon

The Northeast Communities Council, which recently urged early construction of the Northeast Diagonal from 27th to 48th, Wednesday called for a preliminary survey for route planning purposes and cost estimates.

In a letter to the City Council, Chairman Herbert H. Heumann of the Northeast Council said "no intelligent appraisal or consideration" of the city's capital improvements budget can be given without the suggested survey.

The Council is expected to consider the survey request at its regular meeting Monday.

Probable Item

Heumann said the budget probably will contain an item labeled "major street improvement" in the approximate amount of $503,000.

"There are no reliable figures which the city engineering department could furnish to the Council at this time on the estimated cost of the Northeast Diagonal as originally routed and there will now need to be several changes in the routing," Heumann said.

Heumann urged the City Council to authorize the survey, which will take about two months, to furnish the necessary information on the new route and cost estimates.

Heumann said the survey would also be required before the project could be proposed for federal matching funds.

Survey OKed

The Council earlier this week authorized a traffic survey leading to a determination of design requirements for widening and improving O Street from 27th to 63rd.

Both the proposed Northeast Diagonal and O Street projects are to be considered by the Council during the 1959-60 budget session later this month.

The Northeast Council is composed of representatives from the Havelock Lions Club, Bethany Lions Club, University Place Lions Club, Havelock Business Mens Assn., Bethany Business Men, University Place Business Men, Miracle Mile Assn., and Northeast Rotary Club.

Youth Who Lost Hand In Picker Appeals Suit

A 19-year-old Scotts Bluff County farm hand who lost his hand in a corn picker has appealed his damage suit to the Nebraska Supreme Court. His brief was filed Wednesday.

Dean Schaub, who was 18 at the time of the accident, had brought suit against George Brackman, owner of the corn picker. The jury for Scotts Bluff County District Court found in favor of Brackman, and the court overruled a motion by Schaub for a new trial.

Schaub's brief said he was injured when attempting to clear a jam-up of cornstalks in the picking head of the machine. He said he tried to grab a loose corn stalk wrapped around one of the spinning snapping rolls.

The boy testified that Brackman had never demonstrated how to "unplug" the corn picker.

The brief said Brackman had had the beads on the snapping rolls built up by welding, which made the machine more "vicious and dangerous."

Schaub's father is deceased, and his mother is married to Brackman. Brackman never adopted the boy, the brief said.

Firing Squad Ordered For A Russian Drunk

Moscow (AP)—A firing squad has been ordered for a drunk who fatally stabbed a member of the voluntary police established by Premier Khrushchev to crack down on troublesome drunks.

The trade union newspaper Trud reported that the death sentence was passed after the wife of the defendant testified her husband got drunk frequently and beat her up.

Anisimov was convicted of stabbing Leonid A. Bakhtin, father of 3 children, with a kitchen knife when the policeman tried to halt a drunken brawl in Pervouralsk, a city in the Urals.

Kozlov Huffy At Governor Williams After Set-To

Detroit (AP) — Touring Soviet Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov left Detroit in a huff after protesting an unexpectedly stormy conference with Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

The Soviet official said the governor gave a "not too accurate" account of their private meeting and violated a rule by making the report public without Kozlov's knowledge.

For his part, the Democratic governor, mentioned as a possible candidate for the 1960 presidential nomination, said the talk turned into a "knockdown, table pounding fight" over his questions on Russian treatment of satellite nations.

Williams said there was no understanding on his part that he would not discuss the meeting. He added he informed Kozlov's official host, Detroit Edison Co. President Walker Cisler, that he had prepared questions to ask Kozlov.

Williams said he feels "it is a bad thing when these Soviet officials come here and get nothing but honeyed words and pats on the back."

Kozlov's aides told newsmen Williams' visit was supposed to have been a routine courtesy call.

Hands Out Copies

When the governor arrived, he had an interpreter with him and also a mimeographed list of questions — copies of which were given newsmen—before he went into the closed meeting.

If they are not asked about subject peoples, the governor said, "they go home and report the Americans don't really care."

Williams added that what he termed this country's fawning on Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan during his recent U.S. visit let the Soviets "think we were a bunch of cream puffs."

Tot Spends Night In Car; 2 Fined $50

A Lincoln woman who left her 17-month-old daughter in the car while she and a male companion spent about 5 hours in her apartment pleaded guilty Wednesday in Municipal Court to a disorderly conduct charge.

Mrs. Grace Sundlain, 22, of 546 So. 27th, was fined $50. Her companion, William A. Wederski, 30, of Hastings, also pleaded guilty to a disorderly conduct charge and was also fined $50.

Police said they found Mrs. Sundlain's young daughter about 8 a.m. in the backseat of a car parked outside her apartment. The child reportedly was eating grapes and clad only in a diaper.

Mrs. Sundlain reportedly told police that when she and Wederski arrived at the apartment about 3 a.m. the child was asleep so they decided to leave her in the car until morning.

Sweet-Toothed Thief Sought

Police are looking for a thief with a sweet tooth who stole about $21 worth of goods from Ruth's Drive-In at 4001 So. 17th.

A case of hot fudge mix, a case of root beer mix and 24 candy bars were reported stolen in the breakin.

Cuba To Eject 3 From U.S.

Havana (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime Wednesday ordered the deportation of 3 U.S. citizens, including gambling kingpin Santos Trafficante, who was branded an "undesirable alien."

Trafficante and Henry Saavedra, who was arrested on charges of hiding him from Cuban police, will be returned to the U.S. in a few days. Both men came here from Tampa, Fla.

The third American ticketed for deportation was Loren E. Hall, of Wichita, Kan., an ex-GI accused of trying to organize Nicaraguan refugees in this country for an invasion of their homeland.

At the same time, it was announced that authorities in Oriente Province have taken over a 66,300-acre cattle ranch operated by Sumner Pingree, of Hamilton, Mass.

Roads Speed-Up Plan Called 'Tight Schedule'

By Betty Person

Gov. Ralph Brooks' timetable of objectives for speeding up interstate highway construction in Omaha was termed a "tight schedule" Wednesday by State Engineer R. L. Cochran, but one which "we will do our best to carry out.

"As to whether it is realistic, only time will tell," Cochran commented.

Brooks Tuesday issued a firm directive to Cochran outlining deadlines for getting certain phases of the Omaha interstate program underway or completed.

Lag Hit

The governor's directive, which noted that Nebraska ranks third from last in the nation on interstate construction, was not critical of Cochran, but sharply criticized the previous administration for a lag in the program.

Cochran said, "Like many other state highway departments, we are without experience in the construction of a super highway through major metropolitan areas.

"Moreover," he pointed out, "this is a joint venture with the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, and in the case of the downtown bridge (across the Missouri River), a joint venture with both the Bureau of Public Roads and the State of Iowa."

In his directive, Brooks called for the employment of 20 full-time appraisers, and in this connection, called for the acquisition of all right-of-way required for the Omaha project by December 1, 1959.

Half Are Picked

Cochran said Wednesday the Department had "half of them now (the appraisers)", and was "lining up the others."

Asked how the governor's time schedule differed from that of the Highway Department, Cochran replied the Department "had no definite time schedule."

Meanwhile, Omaha business and government leaders Wednesday hailed Brooks' order to speed up construction of superhighway in Omaha.

City Council President A. V. Sorensen said, "Unless you set goals like these you never get anything done."

'Good News'

Omaha Mayor John Rosenblatt said it was "good news to hear that the full-speed-ahead order has been given."

He noted that Public Works Director George Fisher and Planning Director Alden Aust have been "working around the clock on the city's part.

"They stand ready to give every co-operation with the state and federal governments in stepping up progress on these highways that are so important to Omaha and all the Missouri Valley region."

A "tremendous" boom for building trades workers was foreseen by Larry V. Glynn, secretary of the Omaha Building and Construction Trades Council.

W. H. Harper, South Omaha realtor and member of the Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee, said the governor's order "is a step forward that property owners have been hoping for."

Richard Walker, new president of the Chamber of Commerce, said he was "vastly encouraged" by the governor's move.

Auto Accident Suit Appealed

A 29-year-old Beatrice housewife appealed to the Nebraska Supreme Court Wednesday after losing in district court a $135,000 damage suit resulting from a one-car auto accident in which she was injured.

Mrs. Phyllis L. Sunderman maintains she was paralyzed for life from the shoulder blades down. Her injuries included fracture and dislocation of vertebrae, injury to the spinal cord, fractured ribs, cuts, bruises and shock.

Mrs. Sunderman brought suit against Beatrice Wardlaw of Gage County, driver of the car in which Mrs. Sunderman was riding Oct. 25, 1956, when it went off U.S. Highway 30 about 15 miles west of Omaha.

The jury in Gage County District Court found in favor of the defendant, and on June 16 the court denied Mrs. Sunderman's request for a new trial.

15 New GM Cars Given To Buyers Duped By Dealer

Danielson, Conn. (UPI) — An automobile manufacturer Wednesday turned over 15 new cars to persons who bought them without knowing they had been stolen.

George Clemeson, a representative of the Oldsmobile Division of General Motors from Lansing, Mich., handed the keys over to the 15 area residents who purchased them during the past few months from the Griffin Garage in South Killingly. The cars had been stolen from Massachusetts dealers and were driven here and sold as new.

The cars had been impounded by state police when the thefts were uncovered, although they had been paid for by the persons here.

Charles Griffin Jr., owner of the garage, has pleaded guilty to transporting stolen goods across the state lines and is free under bond pending federal court sentencing.

LARC Joins Community Chest Here

Lancaster Assn. for Retarded Children, which operates both a school and a boarding home for mentally retarded children, has been admitted to membership in the Lincoln Community Chest.

A non-profit organization, LARC was admitted to the Chest at a Wednesday meeting of the Community Chest's board of directors. The 1960 LARC budget will be reviewed by the Chest's budget committee.

LARC sponsors a school and training for mentally retarded children not eligible for special education in public schools, and operates a boarding home for retarded children, Robin Dale Home at 1901 G.

Requirements for child participation in either program include a fee plus parent participation in volunteer service. Previous sources of support have been from tuition, memberships and contributions.

Ray Taylor is president of the LARC board of directors.

64 TEACHERS TO ATTEND NU SCIENCE INSTITUTE

Sixty-four high school teachers from Nebraska and neighboring states have reversed their roles in the classroom for the summer to brush up on science courses which they teach during the regular school year.

The teachers are students at the University of Nebraska's eight-week summer science institute sponsored and financed by the National Science Foundation.

The instructors were picked from 250 applicants and carry between a four and seven hour class load which they may divide among the areas of mathematics, chemistry, physics or bacteriology.

Courses are taught by University professors.

For Background

The institute, started last year at the University, is designed to fill in a teacher's subject background, rather than alter teaching methods.

Attendants receive a $520 stipend plus tuition and $120 for each dependent. Tuition for Nebraskans is $60 and $120 for others.

The foundation this year granted the University $64,000 for the institute, an increase of nearly $30,000 over 1958. Forty teachers attended last year's institute.

Dr. Walter F. Wright, institute dirctor and assistant dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, said most of the courses offered were of unior or sophomore level, but added that teachers are free to take anything from beginning chemistry to graduate instruction.

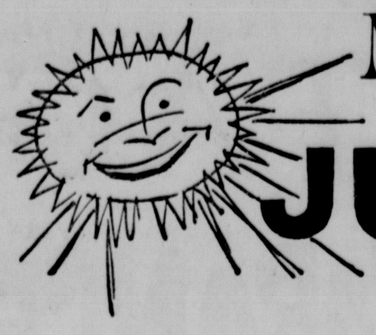

He explained the institute is a step in the current program for strengthening high school science instruction to attract more students to the field. Teachers also can use many of the courses toward obtaining advanced degrees.

Queen At 84

Portsmouth, Va. (AP) — "You are certainly a pretty girl," said Virginia Gov. J. Lindsay Almond as he placed a queen's crown on the head of Maggie Sharpe. Maggie says it was a thrill but that she doesn't know about this girl business — she is 84. She was named queen of the Virginia Nursing Homes Assn. to reign over its annual convention.

W. H. Diers Named Bingo Officer

The state's first bingo enforcement officer is W.H. (Bill) Diers of Gresham, former Democratic speaker of the state Legislature and chairman of the Board of Control.

Diers is also a brother of H. K. Diers of Gresham, now in the legislature. Diers will work directly under the bureau of dairies and foods, weights and measures, in the Department of Agriculture and Inspection.

Diers was member of the state House of Representatives in 1933 and 1935, member of the Unicameral in 1937 and speaker in 1939. He was on the Board of Control from 1949 to 1955, serving as chairman the last two years.

Pearle F. Finigan, director of the department, said probably only one more bingo inspector would be hired to police the newly legalized game.

Some of the 72 organizations receiving licenses to date have already started play. Most licenses have gone to veterans groups and churches.

Finigan said more applications will probably be received, especially toward next fall when interest in bingo will probably increase. Finigan said he recently sat in on a bingo game in Colorado operated under a law similar to Nebraska's.

He said the bingo hall was "very quiet," the players seemed to be mostly older people, and they seemed to be enjoying it.

Under Colorado law a player may have as many as a dozen cards at the same time, but having bought the cards at the door he keeps the same ones the entire evening.

Trust Losses Held Not Deductible By Federal Court

Washington (AP) — The U.S. Tax Court has ruled that capital losses suffered by the Calvin L. Swingle Trust in 1953 are not deductible by the beneficiary, Charles W. Swingle Jr., of Lincoln, Neb.

The ruling came in a case in which the government contended there was a deficiency in Swingle's 1953 income tax of $131.

At issue was whether a portion of the capital losses of a trust set up under the will of the late Calvin L. Swingle of Lancaster County could be deducted by the beneficiary in computing his taxable income.

The court held that a capital loss realized by the trust is the loss of the trust alone and cannot be so deducted by the beneficiary.

Swingle, a nephew of Calvin L. Swingle, who died in 1952, contended he was entitled to reduce his share of distributable income by his share of the capital losses realized by the trust.

CAPITOL TO BE OPEN ON WEEKENDS

Nebraska's capitol building will be open to visitors from 2 to 5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays beginning this Saturday, building and grounds supt. James Delehant said Wednesday.

Only the second floor will be open to visitors but doors to the senate chambers will be open so visitors can look in.

Delehant said the arrangement will be on a trial basis to determine how much interest there is in weekend visitations.

The Capitol tower will be closed on weekends but can be visited any week day.

Navy Expanding

Ottawa (AP) — A 22,000-ton tanker, largest ship ever operated by the Canadian Navy, will go under constuction this year to support Canada's destroyer escort squadrons and increase their range. Defense Production Minister Raymond O'Hurley told the House of Commons the ship will cost 16 million dollars.

Long Reaffirms Vacation Plans

Baton Rouge, La. (AP)—Ailing Gov. Earl Long Wednesday reaffirmed his plans for a long vacation trip through the West and into Canada. He hopes to leave Friday.

The announcement came as a 5-man team of physicians prepared to examine anew the governor's mind and body. Both have been grievously taxed in recent weeks.

Water Priority To Ainsworth Protested

Objections have been filed to the granting of water priority rights to the Ainsworth Irrigation District, State Water Resources Director Dan S. Jones Jr. said Wednesday.

A hearing on the application for water rights is set for July 21 at Lincoln.

On June 19, Jones rejected a motion by protestants to delay proceedings in the application by the district for water rights.

Objectors are Jerome Bejot Adolph Schelm, George E. Bassett, Charles F. Schelm, John C. Fernau, Albert Esterly, E. F. Kurpjuweit, Harold Harms and Garret O. Swanson, most of whom reside in the district.

The objections filed with Jones claim that water diversion is involved in the project and that water taken from the Snake River will be diverted by canal across watersheds of the Gordon, Schlagel, Evergreen, Rush, Dry, Plum, Bone, Willow, Long Pine and Sand Draw Creeks.

The objections also claim that the water will not be returned to the Snake River, but instead will be diverted into the Niobrara River.

The irrigation district filed its request for approval of its application on June 3. The original application has been on file since March 26, 1953, but the district requested no action be taken until it was ready for construction.

State law requires that construction begin within six months after the priority is granted or the priority is lost.

Protestants last month had wanted the matter delayed because a Brown County District Court ruling is now pending in the Nebraska Supreme Court.

Appeal Made

An appeal was made from an order in that district court approving and confirming a contract between the district and the federal government.

The protestants claimed the question of the validity of the district's organization because of alleged proposed unlawful use of water through diversion is before the court.

30 QUALIFY AS PHARMACISTS

Thirty persons have qualified for Nebraska pharmacists' licenses as the result of examinations given at Creighton University's College of Pharmacy in Omaha June 3-10, Director R. K. Kirkman of the Bureau of Examining Boards reported Wednesday.

The successful candidates included:

Lincoln—William E. Lippold, Paul E. Wray.

Outstate Nebraska—Lowell James Behrens, Schuyler; Wayne D. Dickes, Oshkosh; John Larry Fleer, Hooper; Charles L. Heinze, Ord; James Allen Liska, Crete; John D. Pensick, Columbus; Lester Leland Reemts, Scottsbluff; Claude Winfield Saults, Gordon; Eugene G. Vejraska, Ohiowa.

Out of State—Larry L. Blevins, Casper, Wyo.; James Francis Dolezal, San Jose, Calif.; Mickey M. Mundorff, Mitchell, S. D.; Alfred H. Schwartz, Council Bluffs, Ia.; Elizabeth Lucy Tope, Sergeant Bluffs, Ia.

'Charity, Fraternity Go Together'—Dr. Andrews

Atlantic City, N.J. (AP)—The new imperial potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine is a surgeon who believes that charity and fraternity go together.

"They go together in the Shrine," says Dr. Clayton F. Andrews of Lincoln, Neb., adding:

"The Shrine was organized for the entertainment and happiness of Masons. It was also formed to further our charitable work, work of which we are very proud."

Andrews was born in St. Paul, Neb., on Jan. 4, 1891. He attended local schools and was graduated from Creighton College of Pharmacy in Omaha.

NU Education

The new Shrine head got his pre-medical education at the University of Nebraska, after which he enrolled in the medical college of the University of Pennsylvania, receiving his doctor of medicine degree in 1916.

Andrews served as an interne in Philadelphia's Germantown Hospital until this country's entry into World War I. In 1917, he was commissioned a first lieutenant in the Army Medical Corps.

In 1918, while still in the service, Andrews became a Shriner. He had become a Master Mason at the age of 21, and his father, then commander of Mount Moriah Commandery in St. Paul, had subsequently knighted him.

It was also in the army, while serving at the base hospital in Cannes, France, that Andrews met Miss Mildred R. Wells.

They became engaged and were married in New York's Little Church Around the Corner when Andrews was discharged from the army in August 1919.

Mayo Staff

A few weeks later, the couple established residence in Rochester, Minn., where Andrews was appointed to the Mayo Clinic staff.

They remained there until 1923, when he received his master of science in surgery degree from the University of Minnesota. That same year, the couple moved to Lincoln, where Andrews set up his practice in surgery.

In Lincoln, he attained to the 33rd degree of the Scottish Rite. It was also in that city that Andrews served as potentate of sesostris temple in 1941.

The new imperial potentate was one of the founders of the Central States Shrine Assn. and served as its president in 1946. He is also a past director of Lincoln Court 118, Royal Order of Jesters, and a member of the Grand Council of the Order of De Molay.

Andrews was elected imperial outer guard of the Shrine in 1959 and is on the board of trustees of the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children.

Hospital Staffs

His medical work grew along with his masonic activities. At present, Andrews is attending surgeon to Bryan Memorial and Lincoln General Hospitals and surgeon for the Burlington Railroad.

He is past president of the Nebraska State Medical Assn. and has been chairman of the Nebraska section of the American College of Surgeons.

Andrews has also been active in civic affairs. Senior warden emeritus of the Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity, he is a member of a number of civic groups and fraternities as well as the American Legion.

The Andrews have one son, David, who is in the CBS television production department in Chicago.

In summing up his feelings about the Shrine, its new leader said:

"My feeling for the Shrine is tied up with my feeling for medicine. When I look at our work, at our 17 hospitals for crippled children throughout the country I know it's all been worthwhile."

Bender Hotly Denies Teamster Payoff

Washington (UPI) — Senate rackets investigators heard charges Wednesday that Ohio teamster leaders suddenly switched their political support to former Sen. George H. Bender (R-Ohio) in 1954 while trying to quash his investigation of their operations.

Bender, now a $125-a-day cleanup man for President James R. Hoffa of the scandal-scarred union, swore to the Senate Rackets Committee that the charges were untrue.

He also thundered "nonsense" to testimony that the union's state leaders tried to raise a $40,000 fund to quash contempt proceedings against two of them by a House racketeering investigating subcommittee which Bender then headed.

'No Union Backing'

Bender insisted that he got no labor support in his successful 1954 bid for the Senate seat of former Cleveland mayor Thomas Burke, an interim Senate appointee.

But committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy promptly produced affidavits by two Cincinnati teamster officials. They swore that Ohio teamster boss William Presser announced the union's switch to Bender at an October, 1954, meeting of the union's state high command.

Action Dropped

But Kennedy commented that the hearings of Bender's subcommittee suddenly were halted and the contempt proceedings against Presser and his chief lieutenant, Louis (Babe) Triscaro, were dropped late in 1954.

Bender also denied that his campaign finance committee received any union money in 1954. Kennedy said the committee reported total contributions of $86,966, but failed to report $108,996 deposited to its account after the election.

Counsel Kennedy To Give Up Post

Washington (UPI)—Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee, indicated Wednesday he would abandon his role as a Senate investigator after the committee expires later this year.

He was expected to halt his senatorial career for the time being to help in efforts to win the Democratic presidential nomination for his older brother, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass).

Hoffa To Appear

San Francisco (AP) — Teamster Union President James Hoffa said Wednesday the Senate Rackets Committee has notified him to reappear before it Friday in Washington for questioning.

Royal Pair Visits Sault Ste. Marie

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. (AP)—An enthusiastic crowd applauded Queen Elizabeth Wednesday on her 4-hour visit to this Canadian steel town.

Thousands of persons turned out to watch the queen and Prince Philip.

Two Hospitalized After Cars Collide

Two Lincoln drivers are in good condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital with injuries suffered in a two-car collision at 10th and L Wednesday.

Mollie B. Dell, 61, of 1001 So. 6th suffered a broken collar bone and minor abrasions, police said. The other driver, Michael P. Sommers, 23, of 1414 C suffered a broken right ankle.

The injured woman, police said, was thrown from her car to the pavement.

Stanton Delaplane's POSTCARD

The morning journals reach us beside the swimming pool in the valley of Carmel, Calif. We are vacationing, in a way, at Los Laureles Lodge. This was once a simple scatter built by a rich lady so she could live the simple life.

It had a simple stable attached for the simple horses. And about umpty-ump simple rooms in case of house guests. Now it is a resort for us simple people. And I must say the way the rich live simply is simply great.

☆ ☆ ☆

The news is fine, everything is orbiting or about to. Vice President Nixon cut up a few touches with Deputy Premier Kozlov at a White House kaffeeklatch.

Such a fuss! White House reporters reported how the big wrangle took place. But when I read down through the story, it sounded like a pretty mild argument. I mean nothing was settled. And they said nobody was getting ahead of Dick Nixon.

It also showed news was mighty scarce in Washington. What with the hot weather and all the Congressmen home mitting the constituents before the next elections.

I like this kind of news. The kind where nothing is happening.

☆ ☆ ☆

The umbrella bank in New York ran out of umbrellas. That is interesting news.

The Long Island railroad fixed up a bank where you could borrow an umbrella when it rained. Well, the rain came and they didn't have enough umbrellas. And the people who ride the commute train didn't have sense enough to come in out of the rain. So the bank busted.

☆ ☆ ☆

In Chicago, a bunch of pigeons staggered down Rush street singing: "Lucky Lindy, the Eagle of the U.S.A." And other patriotic songs and offering to beat up cats.

This was investigated by the Animal Welfare League. You know what they found? They found somebody had drained anti-freeze from his car. And the pigeons had been lapping it up and were boiled as owls.

This shows that news is pretty light in Chicago, too.

☆ ☆ ☆

If a Chicago dog has political pull, he can get a low dog license number.

The Mayor's dog is No. 3. He comes behind a couple of powerful politicians who work in the collector's office where they sell dog licenses.

I imagine a dog with a low license number could park by a fireplug all day. And no policeman would dast to tag him.

Salt Lake City reports that bobcat fur will be popular in Europe. Lots of bobcats around Salt Lake City and trappers are looking forward to this new industry.

When I was a growing boy on this Monterey peninsula, I was a trapper. I subscribed to outdoor magazines. The ads in the magazines said: "Make Big Money Trapping Furs."

I paid $5.55 plus postage for a wire trap that trapped rare animals alive. Once I got my hand in it and had a terrible time getting it out. I also caught the neighbor's cat. I caught it twice. It was a dumb cat.

At that time the valley was quite wild and you could hear coyotes yip-yip at night. Then rich people decided there was a lot of simple life to be had.

They moved in and built simple mansions. And when we simple people moved after them, they moved somewhere else.

And that's the news from Carmel Valley. Simply all the news that's fit to print.

Science Sequence Is Urged

"It is clearly time that we make a major effort to solve the problem of establishing a logical and rational sequence of study in science from the kindergarten through the junior college."

This was the opinion of Dr. Herbert A. Smith, chief of the science, mathematics and foreign language section in the U.S. Office of Education, Washington, D.C.

Speaking before the opening session of the University of Nebraska's All-Teachers Conference Wednesday afternoon, the former Nebraskan said in the past decade progress has been made toward the establishmen. of a kindergarten to 14 grade program of science instruction.

But, he added, "the problem of effectively articulating the work in science in the successive educational units has assumed even greater importance."

Dr. Smith, who assists in the administration of the National Defense Education Act of 1958, explained that the amount of thought, study and discussion that the Act has promoted–has been most beneficial even without the expenditure of any money.

Discussing the progress being made in science, mathematics, and foreign languages, he said:

"I believe that scientists, mathematicians, linquists, and educators have come to a better understanding of their common problems. I think that educators have moved in the direction of greater concern for content and at the same time academicians have realized that not all the problems involved in elementary and secondary education are as simple as they had first thought."

In both science and mathematics, he identified five beneficial shifts that have occurred: shifts from memorizing to thinking, from conformity to originality, from quantity to quality, from observation to participation, and from demonstration to laboratory.

Dr. Smith stressed that the most crucial problem in all three fields is the shortage of adequate numbers of qualified teachers. "We will continue to have critical problems until we are able to come closer to meeting the demand with highly qualified individuals."

A Rosy Dawn, Socially Speaking

—Scanned the social horizon this ayem and it appeared to be rosy — Learned numerous things concerning the activities of the populace, and found them entirely to our liking —

Take the plans of the Long Shot Club, for instance. Maybe you remember that the Long Shot Club is composed of seven couples who meet at regular intervals and ante into an investment kitty.

We suspect that stocks, bonds, gains and losses will be touched upon, but we know for sure that fun is the objective when the Long Shots are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Cather Jr., at their summer cottage at South Bend on Sunday. The party begins at noon and following an afternoon of swimming and a variety of sports, there is to be a chicken barbecue supper.

In the group will be, in addition to the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. George (Bus) Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carper, Mr. and Mrs. Van Ashmun, Dr. and Mrs. Duane Hunt, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Schmadeke.

* * *

—There has been, and continues to be, considerable activity that involves Miss Sally Adams. Miss Adams, who has been editor of the Nebraska Alumnus, leaves on Monday for Pullman, Wash., where she will be the editor of Washington State College's quarterly publication, the Washington State Review.

Tuesday's calendar included two courtesies for Miss Adams — the first, a luncheon for which Delta Gamma classmates were hostesses at the Inter Com Club, and the second — a dessert supper for which members of Chapter FX, P.E.O., were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Boswell.

* * *

—This evening Miss Adams will share honors with Gene Berg of New York City when Van Westover entertains informally at his home.

And on Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. George Hancock will honor Miss Adams and her sister, Miss Ruth Adams who leaves later this month for San Francisco, when they are host and hostess at a canape party.

The past few days have found Miss Adams busy with other courtesies — Mr. and Mrs. Allan Casari entertained at an evening party in farewell courtesy to Miss Adams, and when Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wadlow were host and hostess at their home the party honored Miss Adams and Dr. and Mrs. Phil Eyen.

* * *

Speaking of farewell courtesies — Understand that Mr. and Mrs. W. Joyce Ayres will be a dinner host and hostess at their home on Saturday evening when they compliment Capt. and Mrs. James Wheaton who, with their children, will be leaving soon for Germany.

—Farewell courtesies do not monopolize the party calendar, however — We find that a number of informal courtesies have been planned for Mrs. Tom Shaw, the former Barbara Bell, who arrives this week end from San Francisco. Mrs. Shaw will be the house guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Bell.

* * *

—Then we heard that Dr. and Mrs. Norman H. Cromwell have house guests — The visitors are Mrs. Cromwell's brother and sister-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Newell and their four children, Tamara, Kent, Scott and Bradley, of Cleveland, O. The Rev. Mr. Newell is minister of the Baptist Church of the Master in Cleveland.

* * *

—A week from Friday will find another name in the guest book at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Cromwell. This time the guest will be Peter de la More of University College, London, England. Mr. de la More who is en route to New Zealand, will address the graduate students and faculty of the University of Nebraska department of chemistry.

* * *

—Also on Lincoln's guest list, as of today, will be Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rystrom of Vancouver, Wash., who, during their brief stay, will be the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Copeland.

Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Rystrom (she is the former Sally Hall, Kappa Kappa Gamma at Nebraska) Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lawlor, Mr. and Mrs. Copeland and Mr. and Mrs. Randall Ayer will entertain at a no host dinner on Friday evening.

To Head Officers Wives Club

"In the Good Old Summer Time," was the theme of the Officers Wives Club luncheon held at the Officers Club on Wednesday. Chairman of the arrangements committee for the affair was Mrs. Vernon Biaett.

During the afternoon, election of officers was held and they include (pictured from left to right) Mrs. Morris Moon, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Stanley J. Reilly, first vice president; Mrs. Harry Willis, second vice president; Mrs. Robert D. Crooks, recording secretary; Mrs. William T. Schwob, treasurer; Mrs. John B. Mattioli, assistant treasurer and Mrs. Bruce Mills, president.

Dear Abby . . .

A Big Girl Now, Mama!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Would you let a daughter of yours marry a truck driver? My daughter has a weakness for truck drivers but I want her to find a nice local boy. This is the third truck driver she has gone with and this time she wants to get married. This coming and going and sleeping days and driving nights doesn't strike me as much of a life. Will you please help me decide if I should let her marry this guy? As long as she is living under my roof she has to do as I say. She is 27 years old.

MRS. D.

DEAR MRS. D.: Truck drivers as a rule are a responsible, sober, hard working lot. If your daughter knows him and his background well enough there's no reason why they can't be very happy.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am in a terrible mess. When I was six months pregnant (unmarried) I went to my sister's house and stayed with her and my brother-in-law as I was desperate. No one knew of my condition but them. I went to the hospital and used her name and had my baby. I told my sister she could have my baby (she can't have any of her own) but now the baby's father has come around and he wants to marry me and we want our baby. My sister and brother-in-law say they will fight me in court. Since I used her name in the hospital can she keep my baby?

DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: If you cannot afford to hire a lawyer, go to your local LEGAL AID SOCIETY. They will help you.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am a 28-year-old man who is married to a girl who is "married" to her mother. We've been married three years, but I am afraid unless she quits running to her mother we won't stay married much longer. She was born with a silver spoon in her mouth and her mother gives her everything she wants. Her mother is a widow and my wife is the only child. She tells her mother everything (and I do mean everything). When my wife gets the blues she'll go spend the night with her mother. Please tell me what to do.

ANDY

DEAR ANDY: It's not the "silver spoon" you have to worry about — it's the "silver cord". Your wife is immature and her mother hasn't encouraged her to grow up. She should leave her mother long enough to visit a marriage counselor with you.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Time Out For Fun

Re-elected grand president of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority during its international convention held last week at French Lick, Ind., was Mrs. F. J. Vogelsang of Lincoln.

Another highlight of the five-day convention was the merger with Theta Sigma Upsilon making a total of 85 undergraduate chapters of Alpha Gamma Delta throughout the United States and Canada.

Girl Scout Round-Up

The eight senior Girl Scouts from Lincoln who are attending the 1959 Round-Up near Colorado Springs are busy swapping items from Nebraska as well as participating in the week-long program of activities for the 10,000 girls and their leaders at the encampment.

The Senior Girl Scouts, representing every state in the nation and 27 foreign nations, are camping at the foot of Pike's Peak in a "city" of 6,000 tents.

The Round-Up opened Friday evening, July 3, with a campfire program at which the Alaska patrol presented a new 49-star flag to the Scouts.

Honored At Shower

A miscellaneous bridal shower was held Monday evening honoring Miss Clarice Malone, who will marry Paul Schwab on August 9. The shower was held at the home of Miss Malone's aunt, Mrs. John Malone who was hostess to a group of friends and relatives.

The Dress Doctor

I didn't know Mitzi Gaynor until she'd grown up, but she tells me she was "awful — fat, long hair, and overdone, if you know what I mean." She gives credit to her husband, Jack Bean for the present Mitzi; and if he helped her achieve it, more power to him; because she's a girl not in the least subdued.

As you know, I hate third persons at fittings; but Jack came along with "Mitzi for Anything Goes," "The Birds and the Bees," and "The Joker Is Wild," and I found him, far from an interloper, an ally.

Mitzi is inclined to look at clothes from her own taste, "I like it" or "I don't like it." Jack is more objective; he knows that clothes have to take a part in the picture. He's a great audience, Mitzi's a great ham; I'm mad about them both.

Essentially, Mitzi can't wait to try on each new style. She's full or exuberance and bounce; when we got her into her "red-spangled strait jacket" for Anything Goes, turned on the spotlight and flipped open the doors, Mitzi gave us a show.

She has a rounded female figure, good bosom, tiny waist, and she can really sell a costume. If you think she puts on a performance for Jack, you should see her when we finally go down to the set. Some actresses go to the set well hidden in a bathrobe. Mitzi says: "Now we'll make an entrance"—and does.

Everyone whistles, applauds and lifts Mitzi up to the crest of the wave. Every Gaynor costume is a success; it can't lose.

Another experiment in what clothes can do— Veronica Lake. Veronica was a girl who actually wore tweeds, flat heels, bulky sweaters, her hair pulled back into a hairnet. And this was the girl we transformed with hair-do (long, blonde, falling over one eye) and clothing (long, floaty, unearthly chiffons) into a glamorous nymph, half witch.

Veronica got a kick out of the transformation.

"Pardon me while I put on my other head," she'd say.

We'd created a personality that didn't exist, and from the moment the public saw her in "This Gun for Hire" and "I Married a Witch" they accepted that personality. It was an experiment that proved what clothes can do. Once Veronica was through work, had changed into her own clothes and went out into the world, no one recognized her, ever.

(On Saturday, Miss Head tells you how to analyze your figure.)

Candlelight Service

MRS. CLIFFORD K. WELDING

For the wedding of Miss Kathryn Lea Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess D. Webster, and Clifford K. Welding, son of Mrs. Laura Wieker, which took place on Sunday evening, June 28, white and yellow gladioli and Majestic daisies appointed the chancel of the Bethany Christian Church. The Rev. Carl Burkhardt read the lines of the 8 o'clock ceremony.

Miss Linda Webster, as her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Sandra Welding, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Joann Wendorff, were frocked in pale yellow organdy over matching taffeta fashioned in the daytime length, and carried cascades of white and yellow daisies.

Serving Mr. Welding as best man was Mike Finigan, and the ushers were Kurt Wieker, brother of the bridegroom, Larry Hammers and Larry Peterson.

The bride chose white floral-embossed taffeta for her wedding gown, which was designed in the princess mode. The sculptured bodice was accented by a bateau neckline and long, fitted sleeves, and below the pointed Elizabethan waist, the circular skirt was caught into side fullness and flared to floor length. Her veil of illusion was held by a pearl Juliet cap, and she carried a white Bible clustered with sweetheart roses.

Upon returning from a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Welding are residing at 1941 Sewell.

Naturally, we know the great showman's name was Flo—but just as he glorified the American girl, so has A. Q. (last name Schimmel, his theatre—the Hotel Cornhusker) glorified the American Hamburger.

The SCHIMMELburger is as different from the ordinary hamburger as caviar from sardines. A generous portion of choice ground round, lean and chockful of flavor, is shaped around cheddar cheese which melts deliciously in the broiling.

Skewered on the toasted bun are morsels of onion, pickle and tomato; celery, olive and radish adorn it. The Cornhusker's famous crisp curly shoestrings make this a man-size (and woman-favored) meal.

Try a SCHIMMELburger soon. Or a sizzling steak. It's gourmet fare at its finest.

Brides At Summer Ceremonies

MRS. WILLIAM GEORGE CASS

MRS ARVEL BENJAMIN WITTE

At a double ring service solemnized on Sunday, June 21, Miss Margaret Elaine Schlichtemier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schlichtemier of Scottsbluff, became the bride of William George Cass, son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward E. Cass of Denver. The lines of the evening ceremony were read by Dr. R. Carlyon at the First Methodist Church in Scottsbluff.

Miss Marjorie Ellen Schlichtemier of Pueblo, Colo., was her twin sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Marcia Fritzler, McCook; Mrs. James Schlichtemier, Omaha; and Mrs. Robert Tice, Centennial, Wyo.; sister of the bridegroom. The attendants' frocks of pink silk organza were completed by picture hats of pink illusion clustered with pink Pinnochio roses.

Serving as best man was Dr. James Schlichtemier of Omaha, brother of the bride, and seating the guests were Don Schlichtemier of Scottsbluff, also a brother of the bride; Robert Tice, Centennial, Wyo.; and Jack Skube, Pueblo, Colo.

The bride wore for her wedding a gown of white silk organza touched with imported lace. The long-sleeved Empire bodice of lace was dotted with seed pearls, and applique motifs of the lace were repeated on the wide skirt, which extended into a chapel train. A crown of pearl-trimmed lace held her illusion veil, and she carried a cascade of white orchids and stephanotis.

The couple will reside in Denver where the bridegroom, a graduate of Denver University and a member of Sigma Chi and Intercollegiate Knights, is attending the University of Colorado Medical School. Mrs. Cass is a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University and of the Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing in Denver.

POHLMAN-WITTE

All-white summer blossoms and lighted white candles formed the background in the Evangelical Free Church at Stanton on Sunday, June 28, for the wedding of Miss Carol Rose Pohlman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Pohlman of Stanton, and Arvel Benjamin Witte, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Witte of Syracuse. The 3 o'clock service was solemnized by the Rev. Paul Pennington.

Wearing alike frocks of chiffon over taffeta in varying shades of blue, the wide skirts accented by butterfly panels, and carrying nosegays of white daisies, were Mrs. Louis Witte of Syracuse, as the matron of honor; Miss Lois Ruhn, Three Forks, Mont., the bridesmaid; and Miss Bonnie Pohlman, Stanton, the junior bridesmaid.

Louis Witte of Syracuse served as best man, and the ushers were Tom Krieser, Ono, Pa.; Stanley Pohlman and Robert Pohlman, Stanton; and Marvin Kraenow, Syracuse.

The bride appeared in a gown of white lace and tulle over satin. The fitted bodice of lace was designed with a scalloped V neckline and brief sleeves, completed by mitts of the lace, and the lace and tulle skirt flared into hemline width.

Mr. and Mrs. Witte will make their home in Pasadena, Calif., where the bridegroom is associated with a jet propulsion laboratory. He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Engineering where he also received his Masters degree. A former student at the University, Mrs. Witte will complete her studies at the University of Southern California.

We Hear That

Mrs. Harold Nelson, 4442 Calvert, who won two round-trip tickets to London, England, for her prize-winning name, "Prairiedise", for Lincoln's Centennial Mall this spring, will leave this week end by plane accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Gilbert Nelson. The travelers also will visit Amsterdam, Brussels and Paris before returning home.

Entertain At Party

Entertaining at a dessert and informal party Wednesday evening at the Hotel Cornhusker were members of Nu Phi Mu sorority for young business girls who were hostesses to a group of guests.

In charge of arrangements was Miss Betty Endersby of Kansas City, Mo., member of the headquarters staff for Beta Sigma Phi international sorority which sponsors Nu Phi Mu.

Guests, Vacationers In Suburbia News

EASTBOROUGH

Mr. and Mrs. John Reeder will have as their guests Mr. Reeder's mother, Mrs. Bernice Reeder, and his aunt, Miss Lillian Loscher, of Chillicothe, Ill., who will arrive on Friday for a short visit in the suburb. The trip was planned to coincide with the fifth birthday anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Reeder's daughter, Mary Therese Reeder, on Friday, July 17.

Among informal courtesies planned for the visitors will be a pinochle party on Saturday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Reeder will entertain a group of friends and neighbors at their home.

Boats, Boaters Common Sight At East Oak Lake

By Al Beebe

Boats and boaters everywhere is the general sight on a visit to East Oak Lake these summer days.

The boating season is in full swing, and several hundred boaters take advantage of Oak Lake each week. Although the lake is rather small for boating, it is extremely popular with Lincolnites.

As one boating enthusiast, Bill Avey of 3781 Randolph, put the situation, "When it's all you've got, it will have to do."

Oak Lake is made to "do" by boats of all sizes, and boaters of all ages. The roar of motors can be heard from shortly after sunrise until the last vestige of dusk. The 1959 season is expected to be the greatest in history, nationally, and Lincoln is doing its share in supplying startling national statistics.

Now No. 1

Boating is now the No. 1 participation sport, involving some 37 million fans. Estimates in Nebraska range from 20 to 30 thousand, says the State Game Commission.

The commission has just been given the power to regulate boats and boating by the 1959 legislature. The law, which will go into effect next year, requires all boats to be numbered and registered, with a tax receipt necessary before you can obtain a permit. Fees will vary from $1 (for a 16-foot boat with 5 horsepower motor) to $20 (over 40').

The reason for boating's great popularity is twofold.

Primarily, it is a family sport. Ray Young, 3240 N. 66th, called boating "great fun for the whole family. We have two boys, and it's wonderful for weekend trips. We went to Fremont 3 weeks ago, and to Republican City two weekends ago."

Young was helping another member of the family, brother C. E. Young of 5740 Colby, try out his new boat for the first time on Oak Lake's waters.

Wait For Weekends

When this reporter visited the lake, the Youngs and Avey almost had the water to themselves. Only one other boat, below the normal activity, was in the water at the time. Most boaters, Avey explained, were resting up until the next weekend.

The other boat was an 18-foot inboard craft owned by Foster Miller, 2324 Bradfield. It was busy with another family affair, with sons Larry and Dwayne taking turns behind the wheel and water skiing. Younger members of the family were waiting for their turn.

"Water skiing is the greatest sport there is," opined Larry.

Avey's boat is of fiber-glass construction, which is currently more popular than metal or wood. He estimates his total gear, including skiing equipment, boat, motor and accessories, has cost him $2,000.

Not Rich Man's Sport

But despite the cost, one of the significant changes in boating in the past decade or more is that it is no longer considered a "rich man's" sport. The average good rig will run somewhat over $1,000 (without extras), but time payments have made boats available to all.

The other great change is in the horsepower of the motors. As in automobiles, the power has been stepped up. A few years ago, a 5 horsepower motor was popular. Now, even for a fishing boat, a 10 hp motor is the most popular. For pleasure craft and water ski runabouts, a 35 hp motor is now the most popular motor sold.

But whether it's in a 9-foot little putt-putt, or a powerful inboard speedster, it's great fun for all concerned.

As one Lincoln dealer put it, "I challenge anyone to show me more of a family sport."

Chiefs Grab 7th Straight By 5-4

. . . Homestand Sweep Completed

By Don Bryant

Lincoln's Chiefs continued their torrid Three-I League pace at Sherman Field Wednesday night, but it took a 9th inning rally—with help from the opposition—to dispose of the Burlington Bees, 5-4.

The victory wound up a tremendously impressive home stand which saw the Chiefs chalk up 7 consecutive wins, all featuring complete pitching performances.

Ron Teunis became the latest Chief to shine, shaking off a poor start to post a fine 5-hitter.

The homestand story bears a closer look:

Lincoln pitchers—Bryant (Rube) Wasdell, Phil Groth, Al Brice, Joel Jorlen, Ronnie Bloodworth and Teunis — limited the opposition to an average of 5.5 hits and 2.5 runs per game. Wasdell picked up two of the wins.

Lincoln hitters collected 51 hits (.256 team average), including 4 doubles, 4 triples and 3 homers. Mike Hershberger led in the extra base department with 12 total bases on a double, two triples and a homer.

Play was snappy, too, with the games averaging 2:03.

It was Hershberger, putting on quite a show for his parents—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hershberger of Massilon, Ohio —who was the timber star Wednesday night.

In the first inning he was robbed of an extra base hit when Bee centerfielder Ken Fisher leaped high against the wall at the 385-foot marker to make a one-hand snare of Mike's blast.

Hershberger singled and scored the Chiefs' first run in the fourth and then got down to serious business. He tripled to right centerfield in the 6th and scored the second tally on Jim Lynn's sacrifice fly.

And in the 8th he tripled again to the exact same spot to drive in Chuck Lehman, pulling the Chiefs to within one run of Burlington, 3-4.

Teunis, who blanked the Bees through the last 4 innings and allowed only 2 hits after the first, gained his 6th victory when Burlington pitching wilted in the 9th. The Chiefs didn't need any plate punch in that frame.

Deacon Jones and Pug Williamson opened the inning by drawing walks from Jim Bowers, who allowed only 7 hits. Don Gordon then dropped a bunt toward third base and beat it out for a hit when Bowers couldn't come up with the ball.

But the Bee hurler, apparently miffed, wasn't satisfied to just have the bases loaded with none out. He grabbed the ball and fired high over first base into the right field bull pen, enabling Jones to sprint home with the tying run.

Bill Malone came in to douse the fire, but didn't have the right extinguishing equipment. After giving Gene Martin an intentional pass to load the bases again, he walked Lehman to force in the winning run.

Thus the Chiefs swept series from Topeka and Burlington and now take to the road boasting a 4-0 mark in the second-half race.

Madden Has An Idea

Bill Madden, sports editor of the Scottsbluff Star-Herald, is a good man with the ideas.

Last fall, he proposed an elaborate plan to determine state football champions in all classes via a system of playoffs. The plan had some merits, but was generally not accepted.

Biggest factor in favor of Madden's plan was that it would avoid occurrances such as the 1958 grid season, when Scottsbluff was unbeaten but had no chance to compete against the best teams in the state and wound up no better than 4th in The Star's ratings.

Metro Vs State?

Now Madden has a proposal concerning the Shrine's All-Star game, the first of which is to be played in Omaha Aug. 22.

Rather than the North-South nomenclature for the teams, Madden would have one team composed strictly of players from Omaha and Lincoln schools, designated "Metro". The other team would be players from outstate, and called "State."

As with most of Madden's ideas, the suggestion has merit and should not be immediately discarded. But there are also drawbacks.

Natural Rivalries

The proposal would take advantage of natural rivalries between outstate areas and the big cities. This rivalry is existent in every state, and Nebraska is no exception.

Rivalry is a good and necessary thing for any such contest. But a Metro-State affair could prove stronger than that deemed wise.

Such a contest could be a bit uneven, too. Using last year's enrollment figures, Omaha and Lincoln schools had only slightly more than 9000 boys enrolled, while the total in the rest of the state is around 27,000.

Of the 60 boys selected to play on this year's two squads, only 18 are from the two largest Nebraska cities.

It might not be fair to coaches, either. Big city mentors would be on the staff every 2 or 3 years, while it would take many years for a coach outstate to get his turn.

Miss Best Benefit

But the worst drawback to Madden's proposal, in my opinion, is that the players would miss one of the greatest benefits they are likely to derive from being selected—that of meeting and mixing with boys from all parts of the state.

It will be good for boys from Omaha and Lincoln to be playing on the same team with boys from Grand Island, McCook, Alma, Broken Bow, West Point, Scottsbluff, etc.

It should be good for the boys, good for the Shrine, and good for the game, and that's the most important thing.

Cincinnati Fires Smith; Picks Fred Hutchinson

. . . Former Cardinal Pilot To Take Reins Today

Cincinnati (AP)—Mayo Smith was fired Wednesday night as manager of the floundering Cincinnati Reds and Freddie Hutchinson, manager of Seattle of the Pacific Coast League was named to succeed him.

Hutchinson, who was fired last September by St. Louis in his 3rd year with the Cardinals, becomes the Reds' 4th manager in less than a year. Smith had been named for this season after Jimmy Dykes had finished out the 1958 season as a stop-gap replacement for Birdie Tebbetts, who resigned last August 14.

Smith Hutch

Hutchinson, who previously had managed the Detroit Tigers in the American League, takes over a 7th place club with a 35-45 record and 10½ games out of first place.

General manager Gabe Paul who made the announcement, said the change would be effective immediately and that Hutchinson would be here today in time to take charge of the club for the opener of a series against San Francisco.

Paul issued this statement:

"Mayo Smith has been relieved as manager of the Cincinnati club. He will be succeeded by Fred Hutchinson.

"Mayo was my personal choice as the Cincinnati manager and I deeply regret that things have worked out as they have.

"A position in the Cincinnati organization has been

Bantam Title To Becerra

Los Angeles (AP)— Mexico's Jose Becerra won the world bantamweight championship Wednesday night with a sensational 8th-round knockout over champion Alphonse Halimi of France.

The 23-year-old number one contender from Gudalajara floored the gallant champion for a count of 4 early in the round and then knocked him unconscious for the full count midway in the round.

The wildest sort of pandemonium broke loose in Los Angeles' new memorial sports area at the sudden end of what had been one of the fiercest fights seen here in many a night.

Becerra started the 24-year-old champion's downfall with a series of heavy punches to the head as he backed Halimi onto the ropes near the Frenchman's corner.

Halimi, obviously badly hurt, got up. He was met immediately by a left to the jaw that sent him reeling and falling into the ropes. Another left to the midsection caught him before he went down.

Halimi tried gamely to arise, but all he could do was roll over under the ropes on his side in the Becerra corner.

Referee Tommy Hart tolled off the 10 count for the knockout that came 2:02 of the round.

Halimi remained motionless for minutes while literally scores of Becerra's countrymen climbed into the ring to cheer and backslap the new champion.

Yanks Club Bosox, 11-5

New York (AP) — Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron drove in 5 runs between them Wednesday night as the New York Yankees came from behind for an 11-5 victory over Boston and gained a 3rd place tie in the American League race.

A 5-run 4th inning, triggered by Skowron's two-run triple and Berra's two-run homer, paired the Yankess with Baltimore 4½ games behind first place Cleveland, in the only game scheduled. Boston blew a chance to quit the cellar under new manager Billy Jurges, now 2-2.

The big 4th also gave Bobby Shantz (3-2) his 3rd straight relief victory. The little lefty replaced starter Don Larsen in the second inning as the last-place Red Sox overhauled a 3-1 Yank lead with 3 runs.

Trotters Enjoy Premier's Visit

Moscow (AP)—A giant Negro basketball team was strolling through the Kremlin Wednesday when a big Russian car whizzed by, came to a grinding halt, and out stepped Nikita Khrushchev.

"Ah, basketball," he shouted in English and walked from his car to shake hands with the entire group of Harlem Globetrotters, from towering Wilt-The-Stilt Chamberlain on down.

Khrushchev chatted for 5 minutes, the 7-foot Chamberlain and others nearly as tall making a startling contrast with the chubby, pink premier. Soon a crowd huddled around.

It was a great day for the Globetrotters, who are playing a series of games here, and all wanted it known they shook hands with Khrushchev.

The squad is made up of manager Abe Saperstein of Chicago; Joe Buckhalter of Chicago; Bob Hall of Detroit; Tex Harrison of Houston; Norman Lee of Daytona, Ohio; Meadowlark Lemon of Bridgeport, Conn.; Bobby Milton of Fort Wayne, Ind.; Clarence Wilson of Horse Cave, Ky.; Dave Zinkoff and Eddie Gottlieb of Philadelphia and public relations director Walter Kennedy.

"Khrushchev came on us so suddenly we couldn't really get set," said Kennedy, adding that the premier was grinning when he hopped out of his car.

Reds Name Hutch To Replace Smith

offered to Mayo. He will decide in the next day or two whether he will accept."

Paul said Hutchinson's contract would be for the remainder of this season and all of 1960. The financial terms were not disclosed but it was believed Smith was being paid about $20,000 to $25,000 a year.

All of the present coaches will be retained.

Rumors that Smith would be ousted have been widespread here as the Reds stumbled deep into 7th place in the National League. They became even more noticeable after the team lost a 3-game series at Pittsburgh last weekend and when Smith failed to stay in Pittsburgh to attend Tuesday's All-Star game. He came back here.

Smith was not present when Paul made his terse announcement. Paul made no other immediate comment.

Hutchinson becomes the 10th manager of the Reds since the 1947 season. Of them all, Birdie Tebbetts, who resigned late last season after the club went to pieces, lasted the longest, from all of 1954 through most of 1958. He now is vice-president and general manager of the Milwaukee Braves.

The 39-year-old Hutchinson's Seattle club currently is in last place in the Pacific Coast League.

Hutchinson spent all of his major league playing days as a pitcher with Detroit. His best year was 1950 when he had a 17-8 record.

He became manager of the Tigers on July 5, 1952 and remained through the 1954 season. After a year at Seattle he took over the Cards. The best he ever did was a second place finish with the Cards in 1957.

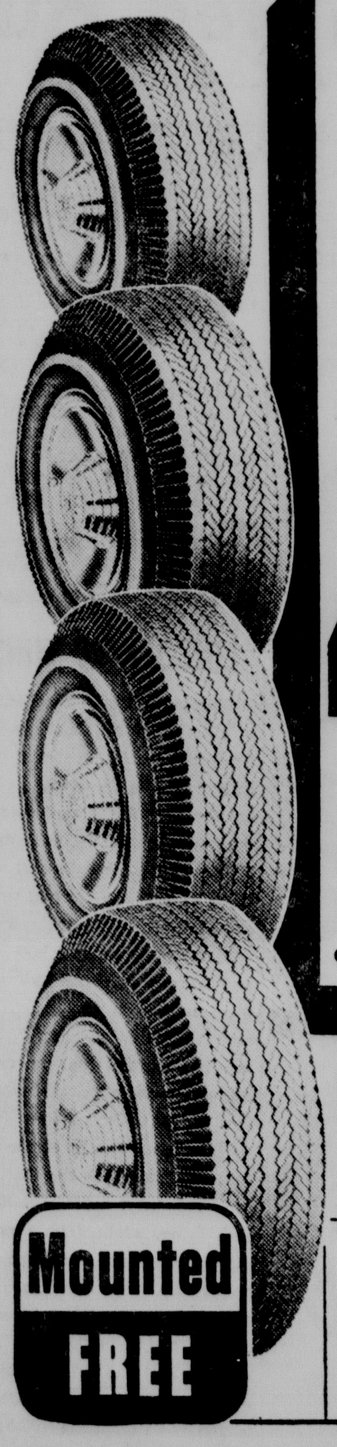

Smith was the 3rd major league manager to get the axe in the 1959 season which is only slightly more than half over.

Pinky Higgins was removed as manager of the Boston Red Sox last week and Billy Jurges was named to succeed him.

Bill Norman was ousted several weeks ago at Detroit.

Orioles Bring Up Brooks Robinson

Baltimore (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles recalled young Brooks Robinson from Vancouver in an effort to tighten the left side of their shaky infield.

The 22-year-old third baseman has batted .335 in 52 games in the Pacific Coast League since the Orioles optioned him out May 5.

He was sent to the coast for seasoning after a 6-month Army hitch caused him to miss most of spring training. He batted .200 (5-for-25) for Baltimore in early season play.

The Orioles, trying to protect their 3-place position, probably will alternate Robinson with Billy Klaus at third. Robinson bats right, Klaus left.

Army Answers Navy Question

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP) — The next Army-Navy football game is several months away, but the Army hurled an early challenge at the Middies Wednesday.

A group of 253 Midshipmen from the U.S. Naval Academy toured the missile test area. When they reached the Army's Jupiter launching tower, one of the Navy men asked: "How do you fire this missile?"

Their escort, Army Capt. H. C. Paul, replied: "You just pull this rope like a lanyard."

With a little urging, one of the Middies tugged on the rope.

A banner unfurled down the side of the Jupiter tower, proclaiming:

"Beat Navy!"

State Archers Face Tough Test

Nebraska's bow and arrow and rifle hunters will have to show fine accuracy if they are to surpass last year's harvest of big game.

Archers led the parade in 1958, as 1,136 marksmen harvested 221 deer for a 19.4 success ratio. Only two states reported better results in bow hunting. The national average for archers was 4.54.

Rifle hunters in Nebraska also enjoyed great success. They took 5,789 deer—representing a 60 per cent success score. That compared with the national average of 33 per cent.

1,000 Catholics Riot Against Red Order To Raze Chapel, Warsaw Hears

Warsaw (UPI) — A crowd of 1,000 devout Catholics rioted against a Communist order to tear down their chapel in a factory town, reports reaching Warsaw said.

Witnesses said a score of persons were injured and another score arrested by police who used clubs and tear gas to smash the rioting in the town of Krasnik Fabryczny on the night of June 26.

Police in the town and in the nearby city of Lubin refused details of the pitched battle.

Krasnik Fabryczny is a Communist-planned "new town," built from the ground up around a metallurgical factory. No provisions were made for a chapel, and the townspeople built one of their own. The town ordered them to tear it down.

A crowd of 300, mostly women and children, gathered in the market square on the afternoon of June 26 chanting hymns and listening to speeches of protest against the town order. Authorities appealed for calm, but tempers rose.

By nightfall, the crowd had been swelled to 1,000, many of them men.

One group attacked the town hall. Another assaulted the police station. Mobile police reinforcements were rushed in from Lubin, 15 miles away. Tear gas and clubs broke the back of the riot, but isolated clashes continued until the next morning.

The exact number of casualties was not known.

Hearings Set On Possible Liquor Permit Liftings

The State Liquor Control Commission cited a bonded liquor carrier, a wholesale distributor and two retail licensees and set hearing dates on the possible suspension or revocation of their licenses.

Merchants Motor Freight, Inc., Omaha, was charged with failing to submit a monthly carrier's report for January, February, March, April and May and failed to furnish the commission a duplicate bill of lading or receipt showing the destination and quantity of liquor received by them for shipment to Nebraska points in March.

The hearing is July 28.

A hearing was set for July 27 for Barbara M. and Victor E. Fritton who operate the Albion Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Albion, and who hold a wholesale distributor beer license.

They are charged with selling to retailers at wholesale in quantities of less than 11 cases at $3.42 per case when their posted price with the commission was $3.52 for less than 11 cases.

They also were cited for allowing a quantity discount of 10 cents a case on wholesale sale to retailers on single deliveries of 10 cases or less.

Donald Hall, Cozad, was charged with selling beer to a minor on June 6. His hearing is July 27.

Arthur J. Wilson, Verdel, is charged with selling beer to a minor and his hearing also is July 27.

Tangible Property Value Now Hiked $284 Million

The total actual value of tangible property in Nebraska climbed to $6,441,302,932 Wednesday as valuation abstracts for 3 more counties were added to the list, bringing to 88 the number of counties reporting thus far.

The 1959 total compares with $6,157,336,770 reported by the same counties last year, an increase of $283,966,162 over 1958.

Only 5 counties have not yet submitted their valuation abstracts to State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington. They are: Dawson, Dodge, Douglas, Jefferson and Scotts Bluff.

Intangible property valuations continued their swift climb, with Class A intangibles (cash, book accounts, etc.) now totaling $403,755,805 in 87 counties (Blaine County's intangible values are not yet reported), compared with $299,770,570 for the same 87 counties last year. This is an increase of $203,985,235 over last year.

Stocks Doubled

Largest increase, percentagewise, continues to be in Class B intangibles, with 87 counties reporting a total of $297,989,408 this year, compared with $145,098,384 last year, a more-than-double increase of $152,891,024.

The 3 counties added Wednesday were (figures in parentheses represent 1958 figures):

Gage: total tangible property (less railroads) $167,886,125 ($165,342,015); Class A intangibles $11,012,635 ($8,451,485), and Class B intangibles $11,917,175 ($5,536,070).

Platte: total tangible property $140,657,825 ($128,342,085); Class A intangibles $9,686,705 ($7,255,265), and Class B intangibles $3,788,915 ($2,681,280).

NU To Get $116,863 For Guidance Institute

The head of the University of Nebraska's department of education psychology and measurements announced Wednesday evening that the University has been granted $116,863 to conduct an eight-state counseling and guidance training institute next year.

Dr. Charles O. Neidt, speaking before the University's two-day All-Teachers College conference, said the institute to be held Feb. 1 to June 3, 1960, is one of six of its type to be conducted in the nation.

Money for the program, which must yet be formally accepted by the Board of Regents, was granted under the National Defense Education Act of 1958.

For 8-State Area

Dr. Neidt, who will direct the program, explained that approximately 45 persons will be selected from Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming to participate. Each, he said, will receive stipends of $75 a week plus allowance of $15 a week for each dependent.

"The general purpose of the Institute is to improve the qualifications of school counselors for providing guidance to secondary school students who are capable of profiting from advanced education," he said.

Among the specific aims of the institute, he outlined,

—Assembling and evaluating

—Assembling and evaluating pertinent peronal information regarding students.

—Employing appropriate techniques for counseling individual students.

—Conducting conferenced with parents and professional personnel.

—Developing educational and vocational plans for college-bound, secondary school students.

—Evaluating the effectiveness of counseling experiences.

Dr. Neidt said that to be considered for enrollment in the Institute each teacher must show that he will be employed at least half time as a school counselor for the academic year of 1960-61.

A total of seven institute seminars and courses will be taught by University professors.

School Attendance Is Not Limited To Adjoining District

The law allowing children to be contracted out to other school districts does not limit the transfer to districts adjoining their home district, the attorney general said Wednesday.

The opinion was written at the request of W. E. Garrison of Nelson, Nuckolls County attorney.

Garrison said an application has been made by owners of certain property to permit their children to have temporary school privileges in a district which does not touch the district wherein the land is located.

Atty. Gen. Clarence S. Beck and Asst. Atty. Gen. Gerald S. Vitamvas said the statutes provide that children may have school privileges in another district, not necessarily an adjoining one, if all other requirements of law are met.

Named Director

Prof. Ferris W. Norris, chairman of the department of electrical engineering at the University of Nebraska, has been elected as one of the national directors of Eta Kappa Nu, honorary electrical engineering fraternity, for the next school year.

Gothenburg Storm Cleanup Reveals Damage Mark High

Gothenburg, Neb. (UPI)—Hundreds of volunteers joined city employes Wednesday in cleaning up this central Nebraska town following a severe windstorm Tuesday night.

Damage was expected to run high into the thousands of dollars. Power service to the downtown area was not restored until 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, and Manager Vernon Lundstrom of the power district said it would be two to 3 days before all service was restored.

Two Planes Destroyed

Many buildings were heavily damaged and crops wiped out in some sections by the stiff winds and accompanying hail. Telephone service also was knocked out. The buildings heavily damaged included half a dozen in the town's business area. At the airport, a hangar collapsed, destroying two planes inside.

No one was injured, but there were close calls. A tree crashed down on a tourist cabin at the Ackerman Motel but two occupants escaped unhurt. The wind also bowled over a trailer home containing women, but they were not hurt.

The winds, estimated at 90 miles an hour in velocity, damaged nearly every tree in town, police Chief Lloyd Sealander said, and destroyed many.

Fire Chief Orva Nichols said the town was lucky to avoid fires since power was knocked out almost at once.

CAP Patrols Area

Fifteen Civil Air Patrol members from Lexington patrolled the area Tuesday night to prevent looting. Cozad volunteers and city employes were helping Gothenburg in the cleanup work.

All crops in an area from two miles west of Gothenburg to 5 miles north of town were destroyed, and there was scattered damage in other farm areas. Most streets here were blocked with debris, including U.S. 30, immediately after the storm.

WIREPHOTO

Wooden boxes containing new caskets were strewn about the debris of a Gothenburg warehouse which was demolished by the high winds Tuesday night.

Auburn Woman's Services Friday; Accident Victim

Lincoln Star Special

Auburn, Neb. — Funeral services for Mrs. Charles Grovenberg, 41, who died in a Nebraska City hospital of injuries suffered in a two-car crash Monday night, will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at the May and Timm Mortuary in Auburn.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband. The auto was in collision with another driven by the Rev. Roy R. McKimsey of Holton, Kan., on U.S. 73-75 near Humboldt.

Mrs. Grovenberg had resided in Auburn for a number of years.

Surviving in addition to her husband are a daughter, Mrs. Judith A. Ely of Auburn; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lindley J. Apple of Auburn; and a brother, Charles H. Apple, also of Auburn.

Vegetable Crop Processing Eyed As New State Industry

The possibilities of developing a new agricultural industry in Nebraska—the growing and processing of vegetable crops—were discussed Wednesday at meetings in Kearney and Holdrege.

University of Nebraska officials outlined plans for development of an enterprise with a potential of adding millions of dollars to Nebraska's economy.

"If Nebraska should capture 10% of the vegetable processing business in the United States it would have an additional industry with an annual sales volume in the neighborhood of $100 million," Dr. J. O. Young, chairman of the university's Department of Horticulture and Forestry, pointed out.

Dr. Young said favorable soils and topography and expansion of irrigation in the state provide excellent conditions for the start of a commercial vegetable industry.

Vegetable Demand Rises

An increasing demand for vegetables has provided a growing national market, he said. Per capita consumption of canned and frozen vegetables has increased from 15 pounds in 1909 to 52 pounds in 1959, he observed.

A canning crops committee appointed last year by Dean W. V. Lambert of the College of Agriculture has proposed a 3-phase approach to the problem:

1. Research and development plots of vegetables located and designed to demonstrate the state's potential.
2. Research to overcome limitations and to develop methods and materials which will take advantage of Nebraska's resources.
3. Survey and interpretation of climatic, soil, water and distribution factors.

The cost of carrying out the blueprint was estimated at $82,500, of which $35,000 already is available.

Stolen Cheyenne Safe Is Located

Scottsbluff, Neb. — (UPI)—A safe believed to have been stolen in Cheyenne, Wyo. was found Wednesday near the Platte River by Bernard Ross, Scottsbluff, and his son during a fishing trip.

The safe was believed to have been taken from a Cheyenne motor company. Authorities were checking serial numbers to make sure, but said there were no other reports of safes missing.

The safe taken in Cheyenne had $600 in it at the time of the theft.

New School Issue Loses At Palmer

Palmer, Neb. (AP)—Residents of Palmer school District 49 rejected a $325,000 school bond issue for a new school building.

The vote was 225 to 217 against the issue.

Two More Pacifists Are Arrested In Attempt To Enter Plant At Mead

Mead, Neb. (AP) — Two more pacifists were arrested by U.S. marshals Wednesday when they attempted to enter the grounds of the Nebraska Ordnance Plant, site of construction of an Atlas missile base.

Marshal William Raab and Deputy Chester Wheeler arrested Bradford Lyttle, 31, of Chicago and Donald Fortenberry, 26, of Adrian, Tex.

They were taken before Chief U.S. District Judge Richard Robinson, who set bond at $1,000 on federal trespassing charges.

Lyttle and Fortenberry are members of Omaha Action, a pacifist group protesting construction of the missile installation.

Lyttle made a speech at the gate Wednesday, then the two asked permission to enter the grounds. Air Police refused the request. The two pacifists then scaled the fence and were arrested by the marshals.

Booster TV Gets Curtis' Backing

Washington (AP) — Sen. Carl Curtis of Nebraska is fighting for continued operation of booster stations to relay television programs into remote areas.

Sen. Curtis told a Senate Commerce subcommittee that these operations represent the only source of television for many isolated areas in Nebraska.

The committee is holding hearings on proposals to regulate relay TV operations including boosters and community antenna systems.

$1,500,000 Midland Building Plan Revealed

Fremont, Neb. (UPI)—Midland College authorities Wednesday announced the start of a projected $1,500,000 building program.

College officials announced a fund collection program is being started for a $1 million building to replace the present classroom-administration building.

In Washington, the Community Facilities Administration approved a $450,000 load to the college for construction of a dormitory for 77 men students and for a connecting dining hall seating 450 persons.

No government funds are available for the classroom and administration building.

The present classroom-administration building was erected in 1883, and 31 years ago. Columbia University examiners listed its replacement "a dire need."

The building still houses all but a few sceince classes.

The proposed new building would be shaped like a T, with the main portion of the building 258 X 66 feet, and 3 stories high. The stem of the T would be an Auditorium seating 600 persons and would be two stories high.

The main portion would include administrative offices, a book store, lounge, conference and workrooms on the first floor and 25 classrooms on the second and third floors.

The proposed dormitory and dining hall will alleviate a men's housing problem, officials said. Now, there are 157 students in a dorm designed for 108.

Southwest Reporting 40 Bu. Wheat Yields

...Warm Winds, Clear Skies Aid Harvest

Nebraska's 1959 winter wheat harvest lengthened its stride Wednesday under clear skies and warm winds.

WIREPHOTO

The southwestern harvest was hitting on all cylinders north of the Republican River and yields appeared to be above average. Some fields were yielding 40 or more bushels per acre, but in other areas dipped as low as 6 to 8 bushels.

The challenge of finding men and machines continued to be met, the State Dept. of Labor's Division of Employment Security reported.

The far western state harvest has begun in only scattered areas.

The latest harvest summary, by localities:

Hastings — Harvest in full swing; ample supply of men and machines on hand.

Kearney, Holdrege— Harvest rolling; most of grain now cut. A slight shortage of combine operators exists.

Lincoln—Harvest should be 75% completed by the end of the week. An occasional need for combines and operators now exists.

McCook—Harvest moving fast. Surplus of 75 machines at Imperial indicates an abundance of equipment. South of Imperial, more than 50% of the harvest is completed, a lesser amount to the north.

Norfolk, Valentine— Harvest still on and wild hay is beginning to be cut in some sections of the Sandhills. Greatest activity is around O'Neill.

North Platte—Harvest is off to a good start. Plenty of machines in area. There is a slight shortage of workers at Grant.

Sidney—Harvest should be under way by the end of the week. There is no real demand yet for men or machines. Cutting has begun in southern Deuel County and isolated spots in the north.

Some county harvest reports:

Furnas County — Harvest nearly done. Wheat averaging 25 bushels per acre.

Red Willow County—Nearly done, yields from 20 to 36 bushels, quality good.

Frontier County—Yields 25 to 30 bushels, quality good.

Dundy County — Nearly done, yields from 30 to 40, quality good.

Hitchcock County —Yields 20 to 30, nearly completed, quality good.

Hitchcock County —Yields 20 to 30, nearly completed, quality good.

Hayes County — In full swing, yields 30 to 40.

Chase County— Rolling quickly, but yields of 20 to 25 not as good as expected.

'Hermit' Hospitalized

Dennis Farrell, 33, one-time North Platte resident who has spent the past 6 years roaming the 4,200-acre Griffith Park in Los Angeles, was taken kicking and screaming to a veterans hospital in Los Angeles after doctors testified at a commitment hearing that the purple heart combat veteran is a schizophrenic and needs hospitalization. He lived on berries and picnic scraps during his Griffith Park residency.

Sandra Better; Sheila Asking For Transfer

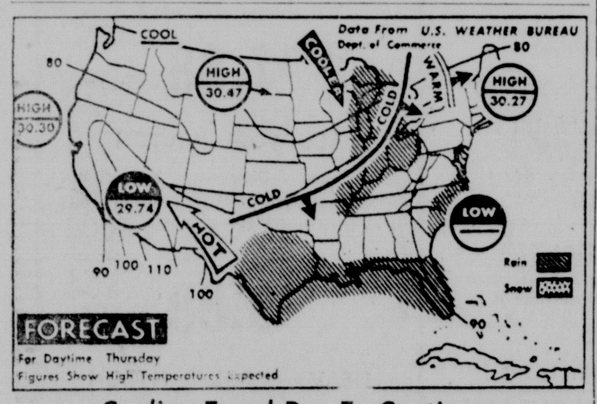

Charleston, S.C. (UPI)—A Women's Air Force officer who shot herself when her twin sister eloped with her fiance was reported out of danger in a Charleston hospital.

Doctors said Lt. Sandra Marsh, 22, Valley, Neb., has continued to improve from a self-inflicted pistol wound in her abdomen.

Her identical twin, Lt. Sheila Marsh Housand, meanwhile said she was seeking an "immediate transfer" from the air base where she and her sister have been stationed since last March.

Sheila said she and her husband, John Housand, 2b, had "indefinite" plans.

Cooling Trend Due To Continue

Scattered showers are due Thursday over the Florida peninsula, central and southern Texas, coastal sections of the central Gulf states, central Great Lakes, parts of Illinois, Kansas, Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana and Ohio. Eastern Virginia and the Carolinas will have squally weather. It will be fair elsewhere with a warming trend in northeastern states and much of the area west of the Rockies. It will be cooler from the Great Lakes westward to the Plains. (AP Wirephoto Map)

10-Point Drop Recorded In Nebraska's Farm Prices

The index of prices received by Nebraska farmers for commodities they produce dropped 10 points—to 260 — during the month ending in mid-June.

Sagging prices for meat animals accounted in large part for the decline, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported.

The livestock and livestock products index dropped from 302 in May to 288 in June, or 37 points under a year ago.

The all crop index at 186 was up two points for the month but two points under a year ago.

Hog prices dropped 80 cents per hundredweight during the month to $14.50, down $7.20 from the year-ago level. Beef cattle prices averaged $25.30 per hundredweight in mid-June, a $1.40 decline. Calf prices dropped $2 and sheep prices declined 50 cents.

Chicken prices dropped from 9.9 cents to 8.3 cents per pound during the month, the lowest average price since February of 1934.

Eggs, at 19.2 cents per dozen, reached their lowest level since May of 1941.

On the crop front, wheat prices declined 8 cents a bushel during the month, corn prices climbed 3 cents and oats and barley dropped a penney a bushel.

Museum's 6-Legged Banana Peeler Succumbs

. . . Old Age Claims 'GG'

New York (UPI)—Goliathus Goliathus, a beetle so big it could peel and eat an entire banana without human assistance, died Wednesday.

Old age was given as the cause for the beetle's death, despite the fact no one knew exactly how old it was.

Goliathus, etc., measuring 4½ inches long with an 8-inch wing spread, was one of the biggest beetles ever seen. It had been living in regal splendor—for a bug—at the American Museum of Natural History since its unexpected arrival 6½ months ago.

Allowed To Stay

The bug was found wrapped in grasses of its native equatorial Africa when they arrived at the museum. Scientists received special permission from the government to keep the beetle despite rules against importation of potential pests.

Research associate J. C. Pallister, expected the beetle to die an early death, since beetles do not live very long. But Goliath, etc., surprised Pallister and thrived to an ancient age in a spacious glass case in the museum.

Pallister knew the end was near when Goliath's appetite dropped sharply Monday. The beetle refused its banana and sugar-water.

The beetle will remain at the museum, on display with 10 million other dead specimens.

INDICTMENT OF FOSTER STANDS

New York (AP) — A federal judge refused Wednesday to dismiss two indictments against William Z. Foster, 78, former head of the Communist Party in the United States.

Foster

Nor would Judge Gregory F. Noonan permit Foster to go to the Soviet Union for medical treatment. Foster claimed the cost of such care here would be prohibitive.

At liberty on $5,000 bail, Foster is limited to travel in the southern federal district of New York.

Foster's counsel argued that the pending indictments violated his rights under the constitution.

The ex-chief Communist was indicted in 1948 with 11 others on charges of conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the U.S. government by force and violence.

Funeral services will be Friday.

Movie Ban Overruled

Chicago (UPI) — A federal judge Wednesday overruled Chicago's police censor board and held that the movie "Anatomy of a Murder" was neither immoral nor obscene.

U.S. District Judge J. H. Miner said he let his teenage son and daughter see the movie despite its use of the words "rape" and "contraceptive."

The city had demanded that those words be stricken.

Rock 'n Roll Enchanting, Visiting Yale Prof Says

By Nancy Shirley

One of America's top jazz pianists of the World War II era now a professor of music at Yale University, terms rock and roll "enchanting," and modern jazz "exciting."

Mel Powell, in Lincoln for a lecture-workshop series at the University of Nebraska, was one of the country's greatest jazz artists in the period preceeding and during World War II.

Powell was a member of Benny Goodman's band in the early '40s—before Hitler invaded Poland and touched off the war. Powell then joined the Air Force, and became a part of Glenn Miller's famed Army-Air Force band.

It was during the war years that Powell met Emanuel Wishnow, also a member of the Miller band. Wishnow is new chairman of the school of music at the University of Nebraska.

Study At Yale

In 1948, Powell enrolled in Yale University and studied music there until 1952. In 1958, he became a professor of "serious composition" at Yale.

Powell commented on two controversial forms of music today—jazz and rock and roll.

"Today's jazz is lovely and exciting," Powell said, "and possibly much fresher than the jazz of my time.

"The modern or progressive jazz movement seems to be more of our own times," Powell reflected.

"Enchanting" is Powell's capsule judgment of rock and roll.

'Speaks To Young'

"Rock and roll speaks to young people," Powell said. "One must realize that things older people have to say about it may be unreliable.

"The music which today's parents considered so vital to them in their youth" has been replaced by rock and roll, Powell said.

"As a father, I hear a lot of rock and roll. And I still think it enchanting," Powell continued.

Powell, as a former jazz great and now an expert in the composition of classical music, said that there are "quite possibly" similarities between American jazz and American classical compositions.

"Composers are, of course, more conscious of the differences between the two," Powell said.

He told of a conversation between himself and a friend, a noted Italian composer. The European said, Powell related, that he "always knows when a piece of music was the work of an American composer."

"European composers always speak of 'that thing' which relates American jazz and classical works," Powell said.

"And I don't know what 'that thing' is," Powell said

Powell, who is married to movie actress Martha Scott, will conduct his next lecture series in San Francisco in August.

FT. KEARNY PROGRAM READIED

. . . Restoration Set

Lincoln Star Special

Minden, Neb. — Ft. Kearny, its history and its future, were discussed Wednesday as residents of Hastings, Kearney and Minden met with State Game Commission and conservation officials.

About 75 persons toured the old Ft. Kearny, the military post which played a vital role in the lives of pioneers traveling westward.

Mel Steen, State Game Commission executive secretary, gave a detailed restoration report on Ft. Kearny while the group was gathered at the site, located between Minden and Kearney.

No. 1 Priority

The reconstruction of key buildings at the fort holds "No. 1 priority" from the State Game Commission for funds made available for this purpose by the 1959 Legislature with work expected to start by next spring.

Harold Warp, Chicago industrialist and founder of Pioneer Village at Minden, was among those at Wednesday's meeting. He disclosed this spring that he had set aside a trust fund for restoration of Ft. Kearny. Warp is a native of Minden.

About 50 persons interested in the restoration attended a dinner Wednesday night at Minden. Presiding was Harvey Cole, vice president of the Minden Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Golda Canaday, Kearney County superintendent of schools, traced the early history of Ft. Kearny. Steen and Warp spoke briefly.

At the present time the site is marked only by two monuments.

Officials attending the gathering included: Lonnie Sprague of Red Cloud and Bob Hall of Omaha, State Game Commissioners; Sen. Norman Otto of Kearney; Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings; Marvin F. Kivett, director of the Nebraska State Historical Society museum; Jack Strain and Frank Foote, Game Commission representatives; and Ed Greaving of Kearney and Bill Bonsall of Alma, Conservation officers.

Europe Seared By Summer Sun

London (AP)—A record breaking heat wave spread over Europe Wednesday.

Temperatures in some southern British resorts topped 100 degrees and the rest of the country sweltered in the 80s and 90s.

Eighty girls fainted in a British TV plant. A London biscuit factory sent home all its staff because all the chocolate melted on the production lines.

Cognac was the hottest town in France, 96.8. Paris had 92.5.

Northern Italy reported two highway accidents caused by heat exhaustion.

TENNIS CLUB BARS BUNCHE AND HIS SON

New York (AP)—Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, grandson of an American slave and first Negro to win the Nobel Peace Prize, said Wednesday he and his teen-age son have been barred from membership in an exclusive New York tennis club.

Dr. Bunche

Both were told, he said, that the West Side Tennis Club of Forest Hills, site of the national tennis championships, excludes Negroes and Jews from membership. His son, Ralph Jr., is 16.

Wilfred Burglund, the club president, told them the club was the same as a person's home, where you can invite whom you want, Bunche said.

Burglund and other club officials could not be reached for comment.

Bunche, an undersecretary of the United Nations, made a formal statement. He said:

"I deliberately revealed this experience only because I find it to be rather shocking in New York City and think citizens of the city and of the country generally are entitled to know about it."

Bunche, once called by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower the greatest statesman America has produced, won world fame as the man who made the uneasy peace between the Jews and Arabs in 1949. It won him the peace prize in 1950.

U.S. Note Is Handed Back

. . . By Panama

Panama (AP)—Panama has rejected and returned unopened a U.S. note replying to a letter from President Ernesto De La Guardia Jr., to President Eisenhower. A spokesman said tartly a correspondence between heads of state should be continued on that level.

The note, discussing a 1955 U.S.-Panama treaty on the Panama Canal, was brought to the foreign ministry Monday by U.S. Charge d'Affaires John Schillock.

Schillock was asked if the note was a reply to De La Guardia's most recent letter to Eisenhower on the subject, sent March 7.

When Schillock said yes, a foreign office spokesman said, the foreign office refused to receive it as "inconvenient to the dignity of the republic."

Ava Vacations In Haiti

Port au Prince, Haiti (UPI)—Ava Gardner has chosen Haiti, in the middle of the tension-ridden Caribbean area, as a place to "get away from it all." The actress arrived from New York planning to spend a month or 6 weeks.

Lincoln School Enrollments Expected To Rise Slightly

Basking in the rays of a July sun, most high school pupils declare they "hate the thought" of returning to school in the fall.

This year, Lincoln school officials note, there must be more such lamenting high schoolers. According to anticipated enrollment figures, 3 of Lincoln's 4 high schools are expecting at least a small rise in enrollment for the 1959-60 school year.

Ed Wahl, director of pupil accounting and research for the Lincoln Public Schools, said that Lincoln public high schools will show a small increase, but "nothing surprising."

Southeast Up

Lincoln Southeast, Lincoln's newest high school, shows the biggest jump in anticipated enrollment. Wahl said the expected total increase is 133 pupils. Advance enrollment figures predict an increase of 110 seniors and 72 sophomores.

Wahl said, however, that the school population may shift with the completion and occupation of the 600 Capehart housing units at Lincoln Air Force Base.

"When these houses are filled," Wahl said, "the students will be shifted from Lincoln Northeast and Southeast to Lincoln High."

More Sophomores

Officials at Pius X High School noted an increase of 30 pupils in the sophomore class, raising the class enrollment from last year's figure of 95 to 125.

Enrollment figures from Lincoln Public Schools for the coming school year and the 1958-59 term are:

	1959-60	1958-59
Lincoln High
10th grade	1885	1868

Miss Truman Offered Role

New York (AP) — Margaret Truman, a concert singer who also has appeared on television and in summer stock, has been invited to co-star with Mary Martin in a major Broadway production, "The Sound of Music."

Richard Halliday, Miss Martin's husband, who is presenting the production with Leland Hayward, Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein 2nd, said Miss Truman, daughter of former President Harry Truman, had been offered the singing-acting role of a nun. The story is based on the Trapp family singers.

Miss Truman, now the wife of Clifton Daniel and the mother of two children, said she has not decided whether to accept the role.

High Winds Hit Coast Of Carolina

Charleston, S.C. (AP)—Tropical storm Cindy struck the South Carolina coast Wednesday night, lacking the hurricane punch that had characterized her earlier movement.

The weakening storm hit the coast at 9:45 p.m. (EST) at Bull Bay, about 18 miles north of Charleston, with gusts of 60 to 70 miles an hour. Hurricane winds are 75 miles an hour and up.

Fifteen minutes after the storm hit Bull Bay the Charleston weather bureau advised thousands of evacuees from the Isle of Palms, Sullivan's Island and Folly Beach that they could return in safety to their homes. The weather bureau said flooding on those beaches would not be serious.

Danger Passes

The 11 p.m. weather bureau advisory said that hurricane warnings had been lowered from Georgetown to south of Cape Hatteras, N.C. Rough seas with tides to to 3 feet above normal were predicted from Georgetown to Cape Fear, N.C., Wednesday night, subsiding Thursday.

Small craft were advised to remain in port from Charleston northward to the Virginia capes until the seas subside.

The storm was expected to lose intensity gradually.

SOVIET CAMERAMEN HAVE A FIELD DAY

. . . Snap Strategic Chicago Areas And A Slum

Chicago (AP)—Soviet cameraman with First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov had a field day Wednesday photographing strategic Chicago industrial areas and one solitary, squalid little slum.

Two newsreel and one still photographer rode in a convertible with its top down. From this vantage their lenses had a full sweep of everything in sight.

On the long ride from Chicago's Midway Airport to the Inland Steel Co. in East Chicago, Ind., the 3 kept their cameras idle all through a heavily populated suburban area of neat middle class homes.

But they were extremely busy in areas of power plants, bridges, railroad yards, intersecting highways, lake shipping centers and transmission towers.

State Department security people on the trip did not interfere.

When the motorcade pulled into the area of the Inland Steel Co. the two newsreel cameramen turned their cameras on a small, run-down slum and little, half-dressed children. The photographers churned away, smiling and enthusiastic.

2 Tots Survive 150-Foot Plunge

Exmouth, England (AP)—Two baby girls hurtled over a 150-foot cliff in a runaway trailer Wednesday and escaped alive.

Women screamed as they saw the trailer, which had been parked at a cliff-top trailer camp, begin moving toward the cliff side.

Inside were Susan Bellew, 18 months, and her sister Lesley, 2.

Their grandmother grabbed a door handle and was dragged 30 yards before the trailer toppled over the cliff. It crashed on two empty automobiles parked below.

Astronauts Experience 'No-Weight'

Langley Research Center, Va. (AP)—The Mercury Astronauts, after trying out for a few seconds the weightlessness of space travel, say it really is a comfortable feeling—in fact, fun.

The 7 lean young men who have been picked for pioneering space trips in U.S. satellites two years hence expressed their opinions after watching, with a group of visiting newsmen, a motion picture film of 3 of them undergoing "zero gravity" conditions.

This occurred in the cabin of an airplane flying part of an outside loop to produce the weightless condition through centrifugal force.

Float In Cabin

The astronauts floated about the padded cabin, pushing themselves off ceilings and walls, playfully shoving each other into the air in what seemed slow-motion time. It was similar to the floating effect in skin diving—which the astronauts also have experienced as part of their training.

The astronauts' training includes experience in a variety of weird and sometimes nerve and muscle testing experiments. They have undergone the stress of high "G" force at Johnsville, Pa. There a centrifuge or whirling machine built up a force equivalent to 25 times the weight of the man. That probably is a greater weight than a man would experience in launching or atmospheric re-entry in space flight.

Stocks Churn To An Historic Peak

New York (AP) — The stock market churned irregularly to another historic peak Wednesday as volume reached four million shares for the first time in two months.

It was the market's fourth straight advance to a record.

Profit taking on the previous six days of rising prices was a formidable obstacle to the advance and it was a narrow one, both in the averages and the market statistics.

Rails continued to rally from their previously laggard condition. Enough key industrials gained to give the industrial section a minor advance.

Volume swelled to 4, 10,000 shares from 3,840,000 Tuesday and was the largest since May 7 when 4,530,000 shares changed hands.

The increase volume was a token of broader public participation in the summer upturn, brokers said, noting that the big investment funds and institutions had begun to climb aboard last week.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 40 cents to a record $223.90 with the industrials up 40 cents to another record, the rails up $1.20 to another new high since 1956 and the utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average climbed .60 to a record 663.81. In a broad market of 1,240 issues traded, 525 advanced and 478 declined. There were 76 new highs for the year and 22 new lows.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks rose, two fell and three were unchanged.

Corporate bonds rose in fairly active trading.

U.S. government bonds improved in light dealings.

Bondssales totaled $6,130,000 par value.

Grain Prices Down Sharply

Chicago (AP) — Heavy general selling knocked grain futures prices down sharply almost all along the line in late dealings Wednesday on the Board of Trade.

Wheat, corn and soybeans finished with losses running to well over a cent a bushel. Oats closed steady to firm and rye mixed.

The setback in wheat came suddenly and quickly gathered speed after the July delivery topped out for the day on an advance of around a cent. Profit taking started the decline in nearby wheat months where gains since Monday had totaled almost three cents a bushel.

The earlier strength had been ascribed to revival of a good volume of export business, the first of any consequence in more than two weeks. The United Kingdom and West Germany took almost a million bushels of hard wheat and Brazil was understood to have bought several cargoes but details were lacking.

Corn and soybeans remained under the generally bearish pressure that has kept those grains on the defensive for the past few weeks.

Wheat closed 5/8-1 3/8 cents a bushel lower with the broadest declines on the distant deliveries, July $1.87 3/4-7/8, and the 1960 crop months 7/8 lower; corn 5/8-1 1/2 lower, July $1.20 3/4-7/8; oats unchanged to 3/8 higher, July new type contract 66 7/8-67; rye 1/2 lower to 1/8 higher, July $1.23 3/4-24; soybeans 1 3/8-1 5/8 lower, July $2.20-19 3/8.

Zoning Change Is Denied For Proposed Bowling Alley On North Cotner

By Virgil Falloon

The City-County Planning Commission denied highway business zoning on Cotner Boulevard tract north of O for a proposed $750,000 bowling alley, offices and shops facility by a 4-2 vote following public hearing Wednesday.

The proposed tract is located on the west side of Cotner, immediately north of Cotner Terrace restaurant and near the Bankers Life Insurance Co. building.

Clive Hilgert of Kansas City, Mo., a former Lincoln resident, said the proposed development would include a 24-lane alley, offices and shops, and parking for 250 cars.

Logical Extension

Hilgert's attorney told the Commission the proposed zoning was a logical extension of business zoning in the area.

But, the Commission's recommendation of denial to the City Council said continued business zoning along Cotner and O will increase traffic-handling problems at the Cotner and O intersection.

It also noted there is ample land zoned for commercial purposes in the general area and along O between 52nd and 56th.

The Commission deferred action on Pace Woods' petition for an expansion of local business zoning of property located at 27th and Stockwell.

5 Protest

Five adjoining property owners or their representatives appeared in protest to the proposal.

They said the proposal would permit a larger shopping center than was possible when they acquired residential zoning and noted the proposed Bishop Heights shopping center is only three blocks to the south.

Other Commission action:

—Denied an additional use permit to the Capitol Real Estate Co. for the enlargement of an existing trailer court near 4200 Cornhusker Highway. Proposed was 136 trailer spaces.

Permit Denied

—Denied a special permit for an off-street parking lot on 1729 M when the petitioner failed to agree to installation standards required.

—Denied two-family dwelling zoning requested by Al Alles for two lots near 47th and Van Dorn.

— Approved preliminary plats for Randolph Terrace 3rd Addn., near 39th and Randolph and for Witt and Juckett replat of existing lots near 10th and Vale.

Frontier Service To Be Meet Topic

. . . Conference July 17

Frontier Airlines officials will meet July 17 with representatives of all Nebraska towns it serves in an effort to smooth out disagreements on routes and schedules.

Jack D. Obbink, state director of Aeronautics, said the president of Frontier, Lewis B. Maytag Jr. of Denver, has shown cooperative interest in such a meeting.

The meeting will be held at 1 p.m. in the Capitol. Cities will be advised and their representatives invited, Obbink said.

The difficulties between the airline and towns it serves stem from a difference between the service Frontier has been giving and the service it has been ordered to give by the Civil Aeronautics Board as a result of the "seven states case" last year.

Obbink said a petition has been sent to Frontier showing where the towns feel there are variances from the CAB orders on the part of the airline.

Part of the trouble, Obbink said, comes from differences in interpretation of the CAB orders.

The CAB also gave the towns receiving new service the responsibility of originating a certain minimum amount of traffic. The towns feel the variances in service are hindering them in trying to meet the quotas.

Obbink last month warned that the service, granted on a "use it or lose it" basis, may be jeopardized by the below-minimum amount of traffic originating along the routes.

Whether the case will be taken up with the CAB depends on the outcome of the forthcoming meeting, Obbink said.

Towns on the "northern route" are Omaha, Lincoln, Columbus, Norfolk, Ainsworth, Valentine and Chadron.

Along the "southern route" they are Hastings, Kearney, McCook, Imperial and Sidney.

The central route includes Grand Island, North Platte, Alliance and Scottsbluff.

Beatrice is also served on a route to Kansas City.

New Teacher, New Program At J-School

A new professor and a new program will share the spotlight next year at the University of Nebraska School of Journalism.

The professor is Conrad R. Hill and the program is the new major in advertising journalism.

Hill, who taught advertising last year at the University of North Carolina, will have the major responsibility for training Nebraska's future advertising professionals.

Hill is currently serving a summer faculty internship on the advertising staff of the Hamilton, Ont., Spectator.

Approximately 25 advertising majors are expected to enter the program this fall.

Hill received his bachelor's degree in Journalism from the University of Michigan; his master's in communications from Stanford University. He completed additional work in the School of Architecture and Design at Michigan and in the Graduate School of Business at Stanford.

He taught at the University of Missouri School of Journalism before moving to North Carolina.
